Never BEFORE NEVER Again

Take my picture...I've nothing better to do.

Oh, wonderful! You're taking my picture.

I probably should have studied.

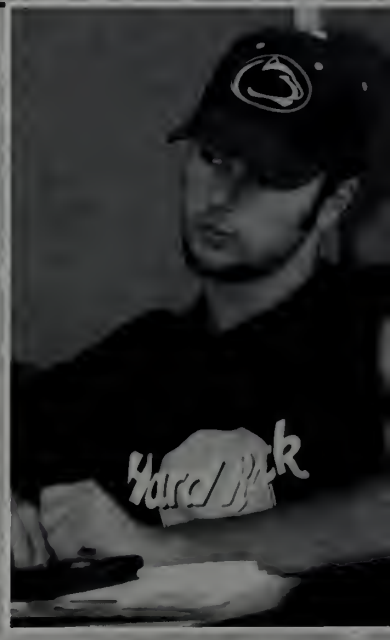

I'm happy... Aren't you???

Turn around. The board is the other way.

No, really. I'm enjoying this class.

And the point of this class is...?

"We're just one big happy family!"

Never BEFORE NEVER Again

The Class of 1999! We are unique...Many of us had been together in the Westwood schools since kindergarten, while other classmates arrived at different intervals. Once at Westwood High, however, we began to make our mark. Some of us breezed through the four years, while others struggled a little harder, but we always prevailed.

The impression we made on Westwood High was unique. Each member of the class had a place to shine. Some of us excelled in academics, while others were athletes, actors, musicians, or leaders. Field hockey, girls' swimming and girls' soccer made the tournament and broke records. Two seniors received perfect SAT scores, and three were named National Merit semi-finalists. No matter what task we undertook, big or small, academic or extracurricular, we are leaving behind an imprint of individuality and a mark of success. Without a doubt, the Class of 1999 did shine.

As the last class of the 1900's, we brought a certain flare to Westwood High. We are a class of individuals, difficult to imitate. Never before has such a class graced the halls of Westwood High. Never again will another class share our same experiences.

"We'll study eventually."

"Move your hand. I can't see number 3."

The chosen ones.

"Go away...I'm studying."

Oh, Chucky, you're the greatest!

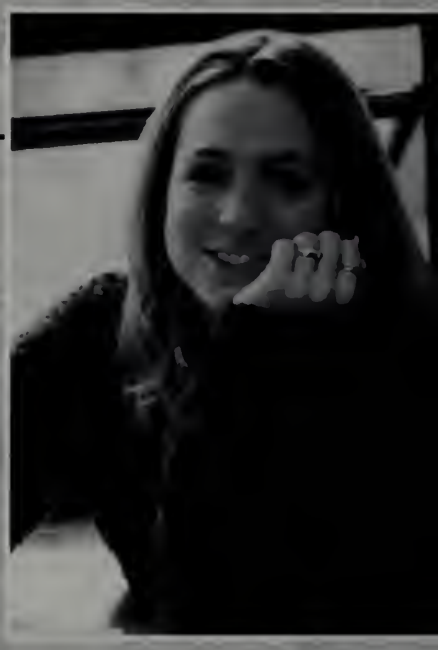

"Hey, Katie, how long do we have to hold these smiles?"

Power walk

Oooo!! Look at this thing!

Hi!

When are the recliners gonna get here?

Don't breathe...I don't want to mess this up!

I don't know those guys behind me.

Just basking in the sunlight.

What do I do with this thing?

What?...What is it? Why are you looking at me like that?

Good job, George.

You wanna hear something really loud?

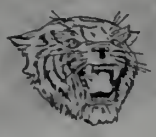

You think I'm studying? Yeah, right!

I know I'm studying.

Never BEFORE

NEVER Again

Leave us alone...it's senior year!

Actually...

English, please

Careful, Em... don't hurt me

Don't knock me over

I love this class!

I don't know why I'm so happy

Quick...she's coming

Books???

I'm right...you know it

Do you have games on that calculator?

Count your fingers, Chucky

All smiles...as always

Katie, get your hands off me

Hey!

We love this class...really, we do!

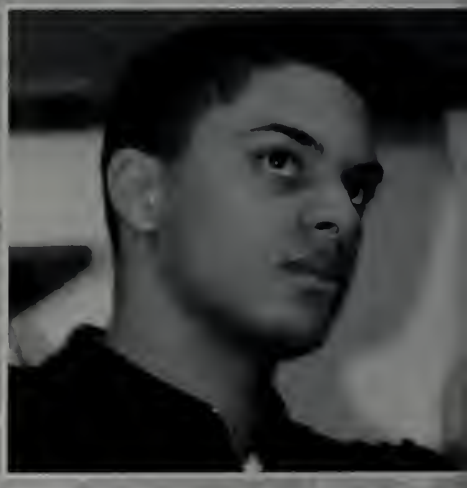

McHugh, you're wrong. I'm the one with the ruler.

Just call me gorgeous

Keep smilin'

Nope...I'm not saying a thing.

This is the best!

Teach me...I'm ready to learn

Hey, what the heck!

Give me a break...this again?

I see your point, but...

Sweet dreams, Andre

A smile is worth a thousand words

We should really be studying for Art History

I find this most entertaining

Just call us the Slingtown Groupies

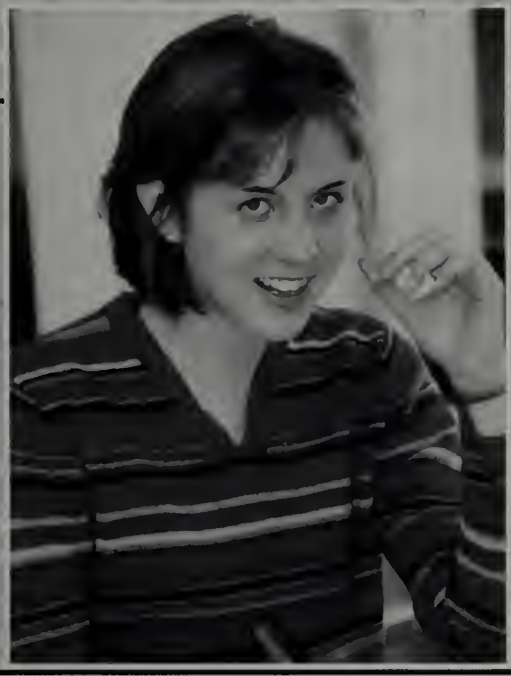

You're the best!

Gruesome Threesome

Sad goodbyes

Don't stress...You'll hear from Cornell soon!

In deep thought...as always

Shut up, Doug

Happily working

Studying hard...or hardly studying

The essence of Benson

Deep in thought

Hola, I think

Lunch break

Jay, don't look so happy

on't worry...I'm going to use the stairs

The voices heard around the world

Holding back a laugh

Why you shouldn't eat the cafeteria food

Trying to keep straight faces

He's got success written all over him

Whatcha doin'?

How sweet it is

This isn't so bad afterall

Is this a promotional lunch for Lids?

A moment to remember

Are you the man coming to dinner?

He's a natural

Is anyone going to the bottle and can drive?

I'm so pensive

Future Pops musicians?

I assume you all have passes???

Not everyone makes a better door than a window

Show me the money

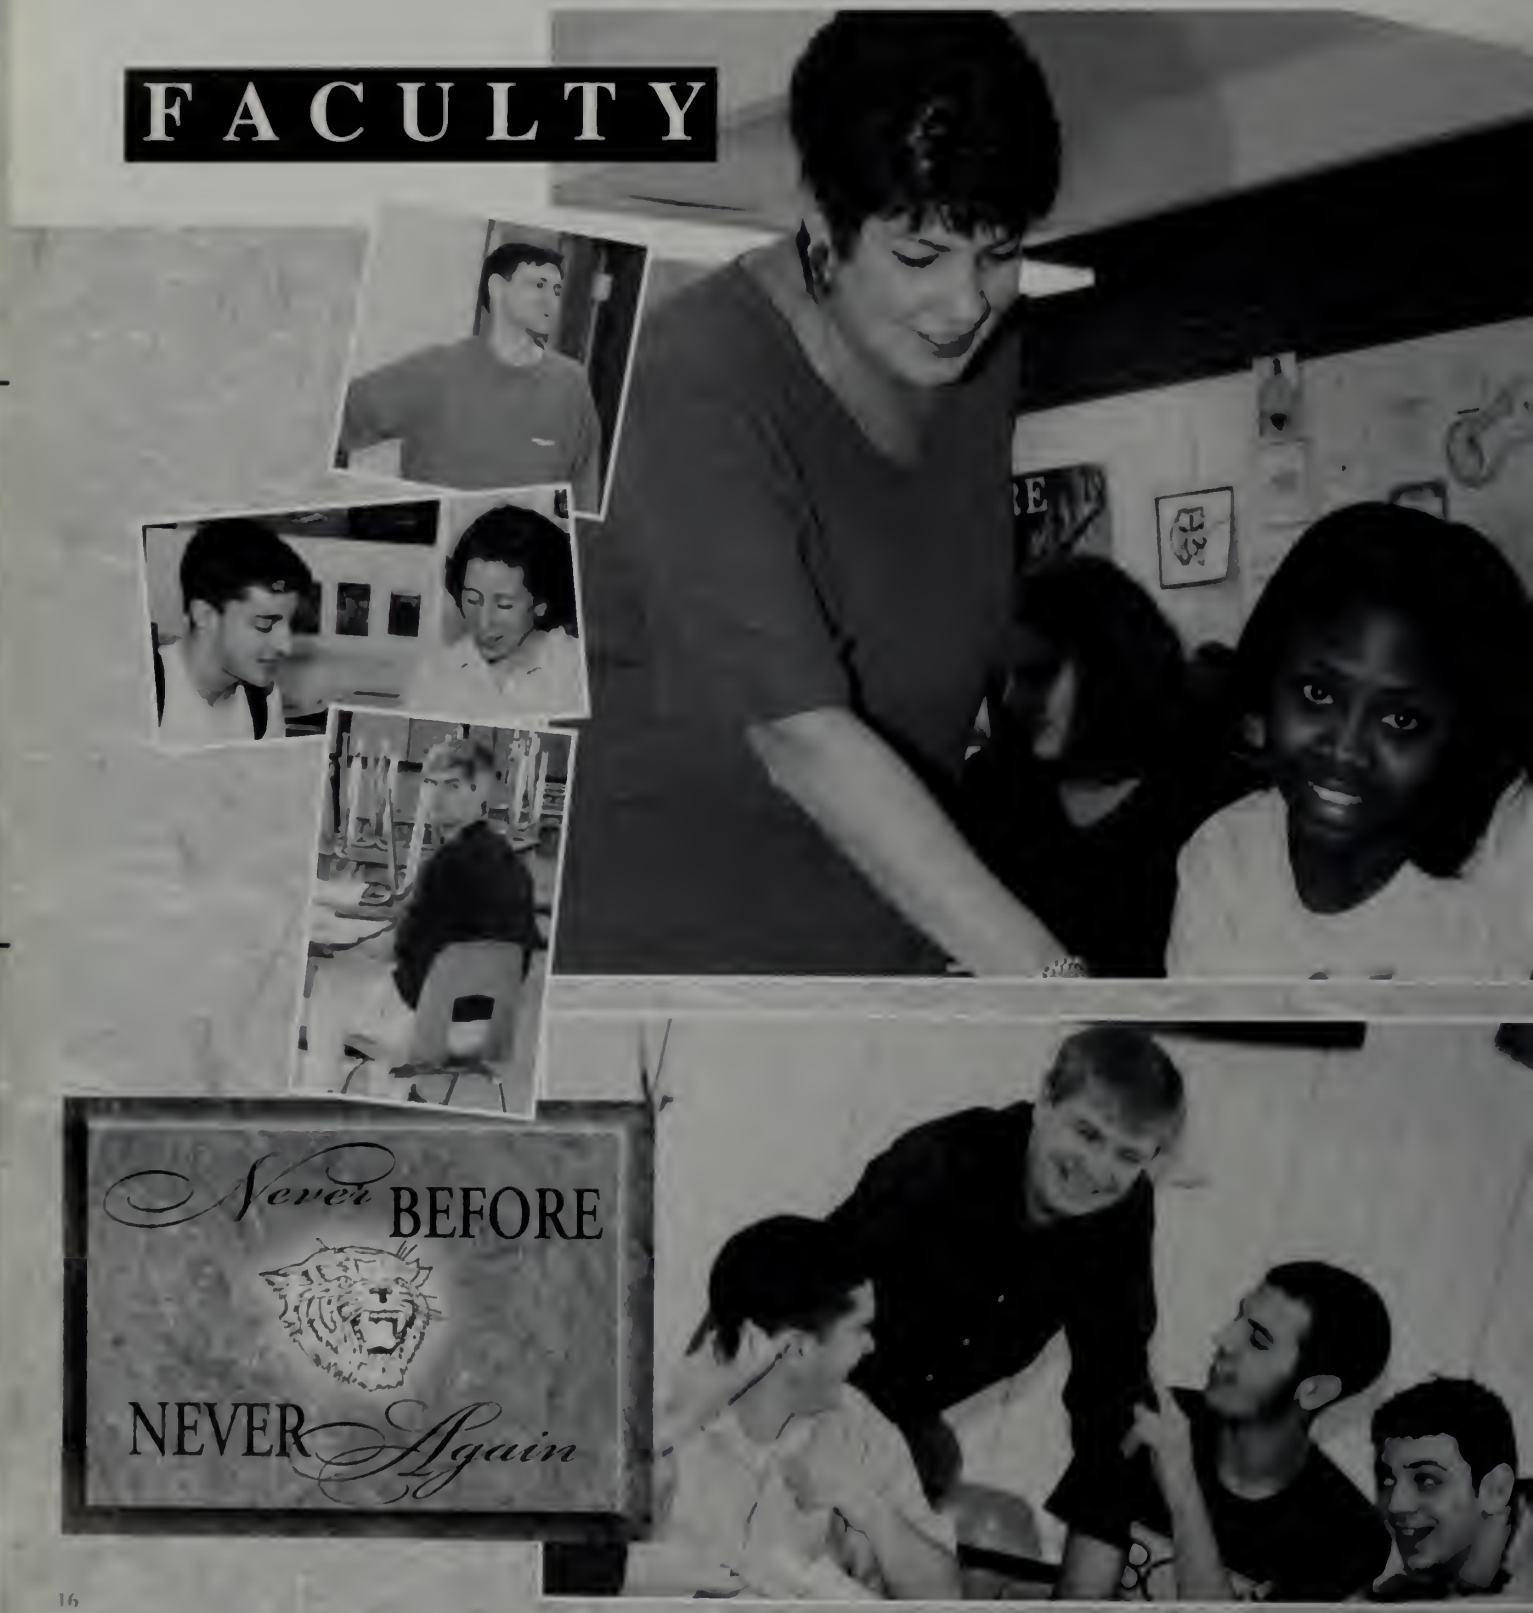

An attempt at camouflage

Whatcha' talkin' about?

FACULTY

GREEN YEARS DEDICATION

Mrs. Frances H. Petrakos

Mrs. Frances Petrakos honored by the Class of 1999

And the Class of '99 presents...

DEDICATION, 1999: For the past year the senior class has pondered the question: "Whom will we dedicate the yearbook to when it's finally our turn?" Such a decision is extremely difficult; however, in the end, whoever is chosen must exemplify distinctive qualities. Students look for a person who has been active both in and out of the classroom and has displayed consistent dedication to his or her students. The seniors have a large and wonderful pool of faculty to choose from, but the choice was almost completely unanimous. This teacher has quietly done more than her share to improve life at Westwood High. In the classroom, she teaches with grace and humor, preparing freshmen for their high school career. She always demands their very best effort while she opens their minds up to the complexities of English. Incredibly, she is able to balance all her work in the classroom while she takes on the difficult tasks of Student Advisory Board and yearbook advisor. Playing a major role in the coordination of Social Awareness Week, she raised levels of understanding throughout the school. Furthermore, few people realize just how much effort she puts into the yearbook. For the past eleven years, she has dedicated time in, as well as out of school, to the creation of a lasting memory. She has taught at Westwood High School for the past twenty years, brightening the halls with the resounding clicking of her heels. Sadly, this year she leaves us as she retires, but her charm and style have made an indelible mark on her hearts. Never before has Westwood High had a teacher like Mrs. Petrakos. Never again will we encounter a lady quite like her. The Westwood High Class of 1999 proudly dedicates its yearbook to Mrs. Petrakos.

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Paul Ash
Superintendent

Left to Right Clockwise: Dr. Paul Ash, Mr. Brian Kelly, Mrs. Linda Noonan, Mr. John Gottschalk, Mrs. Josepha Jowdy, Jesse Laudon

Mr. Leo J. Crowe
Assistant Superintendent

Every year the Student Advisory Board president is able to serve on the School Committee as a student liaison. This relationship is certainly beneficial for both sides. As a student one is able to see what tough decisions go into running a school district. Serious budget issues were the focus of much of the year. Also, the Committee had to make some curriculum realignment choices as MCAS tests force school systems to adhere rigidly to state standards. The student is also able to bring a new, young perspective to the committee. The toughest task actually is to keep informed about what is going on in the high school because so much happens in so many different organizations and classrooms. Thankfully, Westwood offers this experience to one of its students because the rewards are received by both.

Principal's Message

As your four years at Westwood High School draw to a close, I wish to thank and congratulate all of you for your many accomplishments over this short period of time. I am sure that you will agree that your experiences were both rewarding and numerous. I thank you for all of the help you have given this Administration throughout your short tenure. You have enhanced and continued the excellent reputation of your school and the town of Westwood, not only in the academic areas but also in the many athletic and extra-curricular activities in which you were involved. We are proud that we have contributed in some small way towards your successes and, hopefully, have prepared you for a successful life in the years ahead. As your Principal and friend, I thank you for all you have done both in and out of school, and for the caring and compassionate attitude that you have consistently shown for each other. You are a strong and closely knit class and the values you have established throughout the years will stay with you for the rest of your life. I wish you all the success and happiness in the years to come. Please remember that you still share a membership in this school as a valued alumni. Keep in touch.

"Agi Quod Agis"

Mr. James Pender
Assistant to the Principal

Assistant Principal's Message

From the first time that you first stepped into Westwood High School as freshmen in September, 1995, to the traditional "tossing of the caps" on June 6, 1999, a great deal has happened to change each of you into the person that you have become. Many friendships have matured, others have changed; in spite of many changes, you have remained a closely knit group and have become more concerned and supportive of each other. As you grow and change and develop new friendships, you will always look back on your high school years among your fondest, life-long memories. You will never forget your high school years, your athletic contests, your musicals and your plays, your dates, your parties, your proms, your beach trip, your Boston Harbor cruise, your Class Day, your Graduation, and your All-night Graduation Party. As you move on from Westwood, always make the effort to maintain contact, to keep in touch, to remember your roots. Remain loyal and supportive of your family, your friends, your school and the community of Westwood, which has done so much to provide you with what you have needed to become the person you are As for my part, I want to take this opportunity to extend to each of you my gratitude for allowing me to play a small role in your maturing and for making my years so enjoyable and rewarding. To each of you—thank you, God be with you, and, please, keep in touch.

Front Office

Whether we needed a dismissal, forgot our lunch, or arrived late to school, a trip to the office was always made pleasant by the smiling faces which greeted us there. Ms. Buchanan made certain we got our messages, made sure we followed through, and, as a result, we would leave the office smiling, no matter how crazy it was that day. In addition, no one would deny that the best place to spend a block "getting better" was with Mrs. Poreda, our ever-helpful nurse. And a special thanks to Mr. Mark Clough, who was always there when we needed him. It was truly the small (and big) things that got us through our four years at Westwood High - thanks to all in the front office.

Guidance

The Guidance Department was the "hot spot" this year. Early in the year, seniors occupied all available chairs and worked diligently on college applications. In addition, counselors continued to pay attention to the underclassmen, who always had questions about schedules, teachers, etc. This was a busy place. The most often asked question by seniors about the application was, "Is that college on a common application?" You might guess it...if the answer was "No," then most likely that college was scratched off our lists. Thanks to all our counselors for getting us through! You were great!

English

The English Department is one of Westwood High School's greatest assets. Headed by Dr. Terrence Earls, the department has ten hard working members. Mr. Muldoon, the department's latest addition, added a new flair to Freshman Reading this year. All juniors were occupied and challenged as they prepared speeches for Mrs. Kelsch's Oral English class and were also extremely busy with essays and challenging readings in American Literature and Composition. However, Dr. Earls and Mr. Chatterton were the "luckiest" teachers in the English Department because they had the honor of teaching this year's wonderful group of seniors! Mrs. Barazza, Mrs. Hanlon, Ms. Caulifield, and Mrs. Petrakos faced the challenge of teaching freshmen, while Mrs. Hayes and Ms. McIntyre enjoyed "opening" the minds of sophomores with European literature. The English Department continued its role of excellence at Westwood High with its dedication, intellectualism and good humor. There were always challenging moments - not too many dull ones! We would like to thank them all. Our English teachers were great and we will know it as we're off to college. We will be very appreciative of all the time they spent teaching us how to be better writers, how to appreciate and read literature analytically and how to think creatively and critically.

Social Studies

Since our freshman year, the Class of 1999 has taken some incredible educational journeys with the Social Studies Department. Led by Mr. Thomas Brown, the Social Studies Department offers a wide variety of courses. As freshmen we took World Civilizations and explored the ancient past, and as sophomores we moved on to European History, followed by U.S. History junior year. Senior year, students chose whatever unique course they wished to take: AP Government, Psychology, or Major Issues in Contemporary History. The teachers of the Social Studies Department, always enthusiastic and eager to pass on their knowledge and wisdom to their students, challenged us and expected no less than our best work. They taught us to analyze and question our world. Every year students from WHS dazzle the college board with their high test scores in AP U.S. History, AP European History, and AP Government. Our achievement would not have been possible without the hard work and dedication of our teachers. After graduation from Westwood High, we will be prepared not only for our history courses in college, but also for life in general... thanks to the Social Studies teachers.

MATH

Oh, my heart!" "Let's have a calculas party!" "YES! SOH CAH TOA!" The Math Department had a whirlwind of action this year with the addition of two excellent teachers, Mr. Baylor and Mr. Superko. In addition (no pun intended), the Class of '99 congratulates Mrs. Christine Relleva, who took the year off to be with her new son. The derivative taking, square rooting, polynomial factoring and foiling veteran team of Mr. Baker, Mr. Hargreaves, Mr. Kodzis, and Mr. Pender continued its unending calculations better than ever. All in all (divided by the cubed root of pi to the nth power), it was an excellent year for the Math Department, thanks to the hard work and dedication of its outstanding teachers.

Science

Under the leadership of Dr. John Griffin, the Science Department had another exciting year of scientific studies. For the first time, AP classes were opened for sophomores, which gave Westwood High students a greater opportunity to experience the AP challenge.. Ms. Marie Plunkett is at WHS for her second year and is still enjoying it. Mr. Wayne Relleva remains a dedicated teacher, even with the great distraction of his new son at home. Fellow-teacher, Mr. Chris Grover, followed in the footsteps of Mr. Relleva as he, also, has a new baby boy at home. Labs, a big part of the science classes, give student hands-on experience and a little time away from the lecturing aspects of the science classes. Every year a speech is given about how safety is the most important thing in labs, with each teacher relating his or her own gruesome story about accidents in the lab. Goggles are assigned to students each year for certain classes, and as we all hate to admit, everyone looks just as "bad" wearing them as the next person. The Science Department is one of the most dedicated at WHS. While all other subject teachers see their students only seven times out of the eight day cycle, science teachers have the delightful experience of seeing students eleven times per cycle. What more dedication and love for the teaching profession could there be?

World Languages

Spanish, French and Latin are course offerings in the World Language Department, chaired by Mrs. Hollis Perry. These courses have given students at WHS opportunities not only to learn another language, but also to study cultures from other parts of the world. Every World Language teacher has a goal of passing on his or her love of the language and culture and of teaching students a fluency with the language so that they are able to speak with ease and have a good understanding of that culture. The hope is that one day their students will be able to use the language skills that they learned at WHS in a country where that language is spoken. The Class of 1999 would like to express its appreciation to the staff of the World Language Department. They have opened our eyes to different peoples and cultures from around the world. Each teacher has brought his or her unique teaching style to the classroom, keeping our interest at all times. They have been friendly and open to all students and have encouraged us to continue speaking and using our studied language outside of WHS. With the World Language Department, WHS is a very cultural place.

Special Services

What do Thomas Edison, Albert Einstein, and Winston Churchill have in common? They all overcame learning disabilities to lead successful lives! This is the goal of the team of special educators and student service personnel, who work together at Westwood High School. They provide academic support to students with disabilities, while maintaining the same high expectations as is Westwood High's tradition. The Special Services staff maintain close contact with parents, teachers, guidance counselors, and administration to help insure that each student becomes the best learner he or she can be.

The Business Department, run solely by Mrs. Furber, offers a variety of useful, challenging courses that enable students to acquire skills in legal studies, computerized accounting, and Microsoft Word/Windows. At the same time, these courses expose students to possible career choices or college majors. Business courses are designed to give students the opportunity to explore many options.

Business and Technology Education

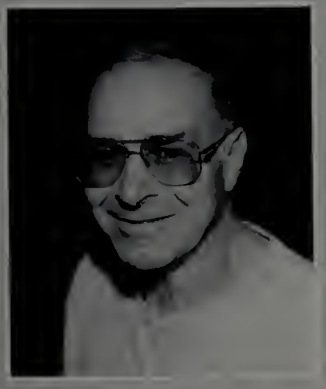

This year Westwood began the transition from Industrial Arts to Technology Education. Mr. LaFond, who previously taught at Duxbury High School, is making an effort to modernize the program so as to prepare students for the high tech world of the 21st century, while, at the same time, keeping the fun in the kinds of hands-on courses taught in the area. This year students are learning communication technology, architectural design, cabinetmaking and basic woodworking. Students in two of Mr. LaFond's classes this year are building accurate replicas of the Fisher School in Westwood. This project is being done in cooperation with the Westwood Historical Society.

Wellness and Athletics

Wellness and Athletics constitute a vital part of the total education program of the students at Westwood High. The choice of activities in Wellness is determined by the season, student choice, and the health portion of the curriculum. The ability to contribute to the mental, physical, social, and emotional development of students and to actually present opportunities to model leadership and "followship" are unparallelded in any other area of the curriculum.

Visual and Performing Arts

So where is all the fun? Walk twenty-five yards out of the main lobby and take a right into either of the two entrances halfway down the corridor. Welcome to the Westwood High School Performing Arts Department, headed by Mr. James Guirleo. While "G-tones" (Mr. Guirleo) astounds audiences with harmonious beauty from the school band and chorus, "Doon" (Mr. Muldoon) continues to impress everyone with his growing theater department. By lending a supportive hand and leaving theatrical and musical decisions to our creative minds, these two gentlemen have given many of the departing seniors the best part of an education. From all their classes and all those who partook in the plays and musicals, the Class of 1999 thanks them. Mr. Guirleo and Mr. Muldoon have been excellent mentors and they will hold an important place in our hearts. Continuing down the corridor past the math wing, students will walk right into Mrs. DesPres' ceramics and jewelry class. Almost every student at Westwood High has experienced this unique class, where students have had the opportunity to create via clay and other unique materials some great art objects. Mrs. Kaiser, the Art Director, inspires her students through various art classes and Art History. This year she escorted a group of her students to Italy. The two departments are favorites of virtually the entire student body.

Media Center

Westwood High School's Media Center has been the focus of conversation since the creation of the Reading/Research blocks. The lower media center became the WHS hangout, packed with students, until the Legislative Council stepped in. Now the lower media center is what it is supposed to be: a place where a student can study and research quietly. Mrs. Kathleen Morrissey, who oversees the lower media center, is always ready to help a student find a book, research a project, or find information on the new computers with Internet access. Upstairs on one side, students are studying quietly in individual carrels, while on the other side, sophomores, juniors, and seniors are doing homework or chatting with friends. Also upstairs, Mr. Eugene Swezey, who oversees the audio-visual aspect of WHS media, is always on hand to assist a teacher operating a VCR, to replace a burnt-out projector light-bulb, or to lend students or teachers video tapes to research information. These helpful individuals have added a whole new look to the concept of learning. Overall, students tend to congregate in the media center because it is a place where they can easily do research, homework, and best of all, relax with friends.

Never too busy to have fun...

Dear Class of 1999:

The editors and I hope you like your yearbook!

Green Years 1999 reflects the efforts of all you as each of you contributed in some way - either by pictures, sports summaries, clubs and activity write-ups or suggestions. Thank you all.

I especially would like to thank the Green Years Staff: You were dedicated and completed your assignments superbly. Without your help and enthusiasm this book would not have been possible. I appreciated your diligence (perhaps "hounding" is better word) in contacting, cajoling, pressuring your classmates to get materials in on time. A special thanks also to the senior class advisors, Mr. John Muldoon and Mr. Chris Grover, and to the faculty and staff. Their cooperation and input made so many facets of the yearbook easier.

There is one more note of appreciation that I would like to extend and that is to our principal, Mr. Charles Flahive. As a former yearbook advisor himself, he always understood and appreciated the work and effort required of many in order to put a yearbook together. He changed schedules willingly in order to accommodate the photographing of the clubs and activities, he arranged fund-raising activities for the yearbook in order to keep costs down, and very often he took pictures of various activities when a photographer was not present. Without his constant support and interest, I could not have done my job as well.

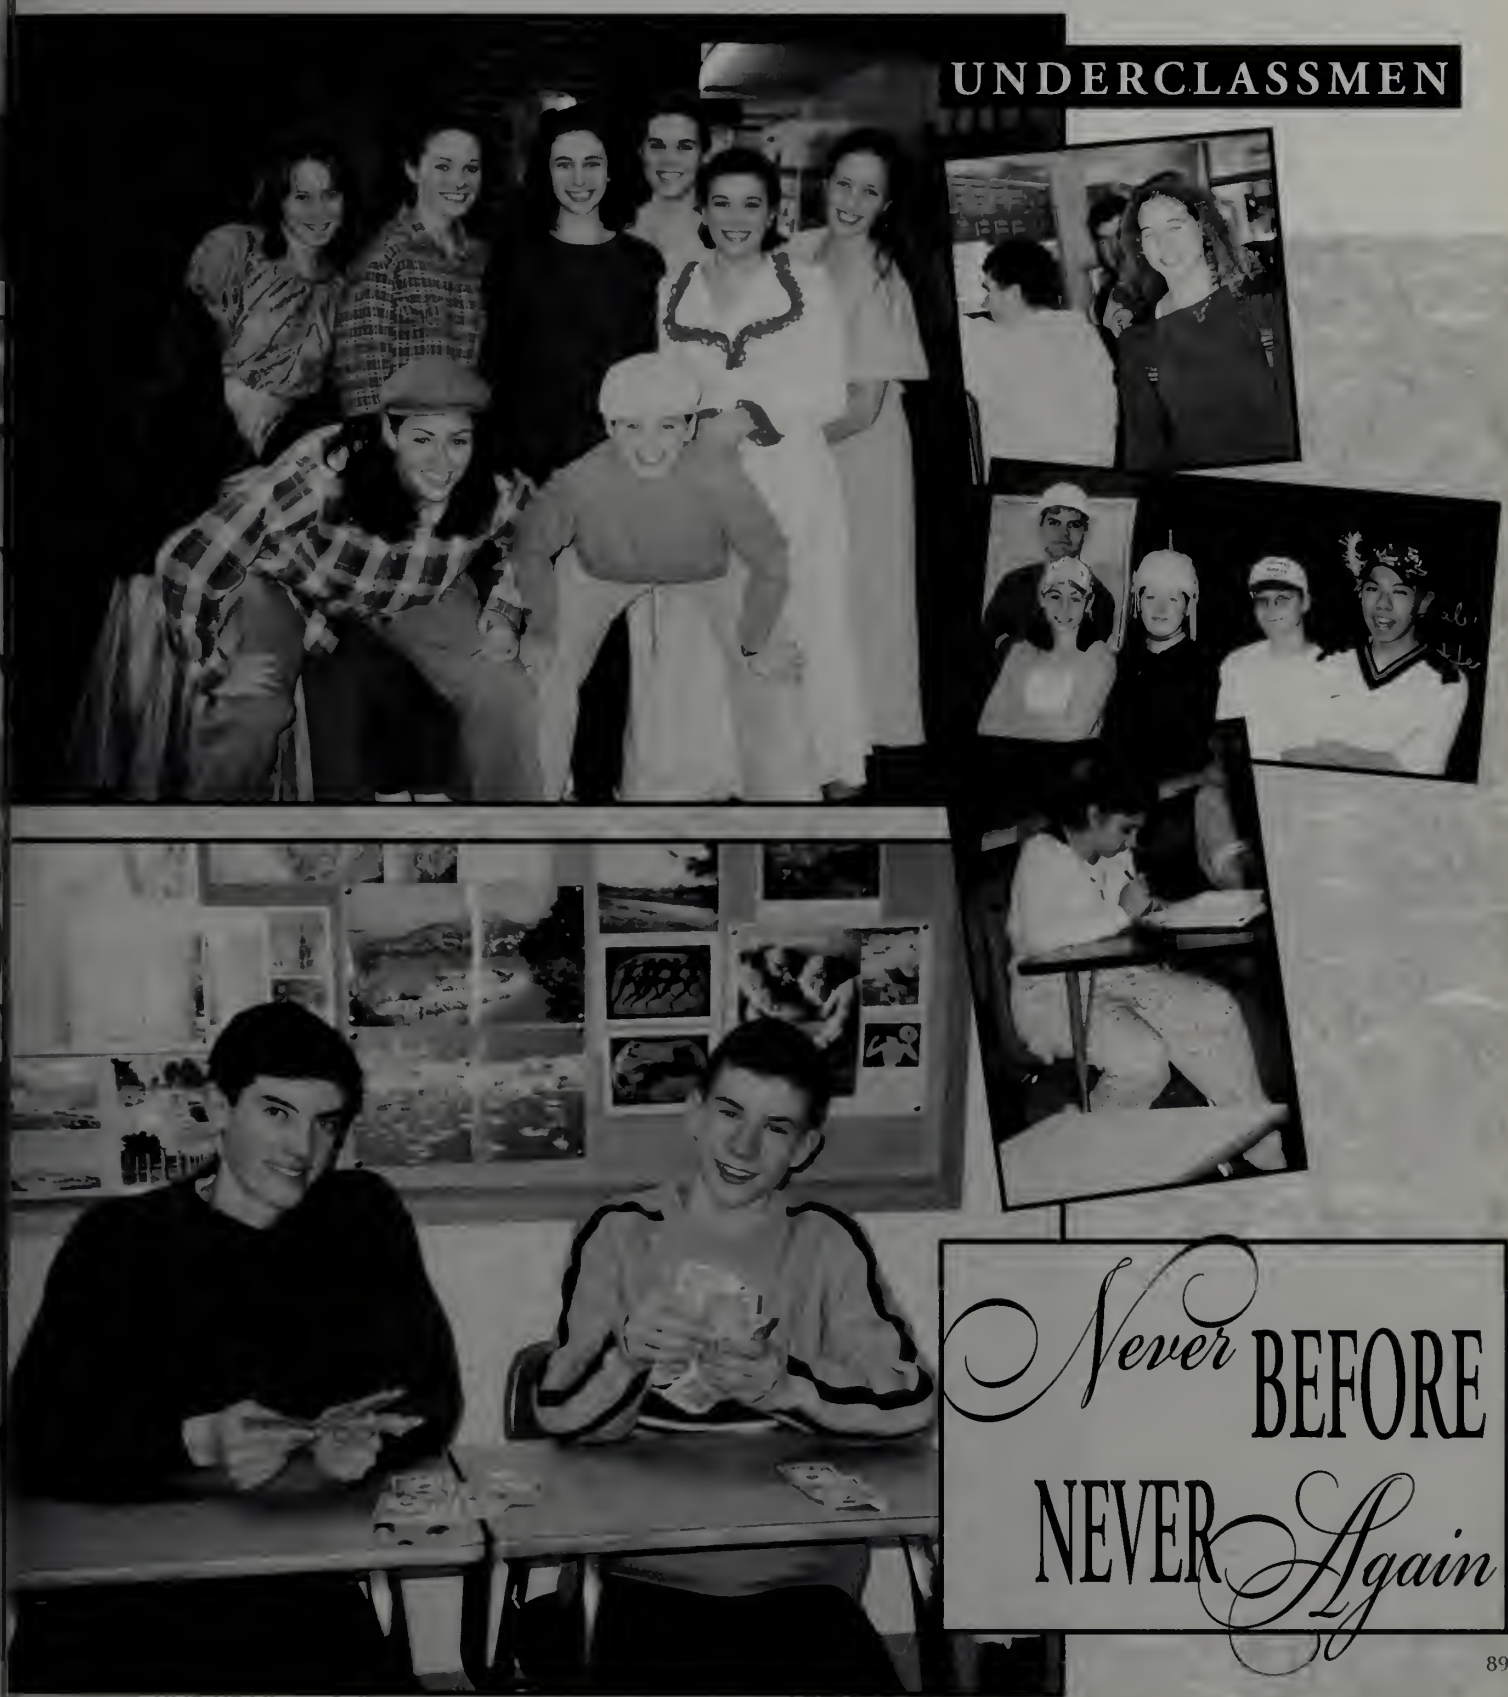

My first yearbook was for the Class of 1988. Green Years 1999 is my last for Westwood High. I will always remember you and I wish you well in all your future endeavors. Be happy. Keep in touch.

Yours BEFORE, NEVER Again will there be a class like the Class of 1999.

Sincerely,
Frances H. Petrakos

STUDENT LIFE

Never BEFORE

HOMECOMING WEEK

What is a better way to start off a Monday morning than relaxing in pajamas and slippers? This is exactly how our exciting Homecoming Week began. After a relaxing morning, students walked into a lively and loud cafeteria at lunchtime. "D.J. Cafe" woke up anyone and everyone to tell them of the events to come. The music not only brought excitement to the students, but also inspired a crowd-stopping Michael Jackson imitation. The Homecoming activities were just beginning. The annual donut-eating contest was held on Tuesday and sparked off the competitions. Of course, it was no ordinary Tuesday in the fall of 1998 - this was a Tuesday from the 80's. Students from all grades were excited about having a chance to peg their jeans, tie their shirts, and crimp their hair. The spirit of dressing up did not let down the next day as "The Spice Girls," the Canadian flag, "Blue Man Group," and "The Incredible Hulk" paraded through the halls, which included the hauntingly decorated art wing. Halloween had begun three days early at Westwood High. As the costumes were being judged at lunch, the ballots were being cast for the Homecoming queen and her court.

Finally, the much- anticipated day of the short, yet eventful Homecoming Week, arrived. Without breaking the streak of dressing up everyday that week, students came to school wearing green not only in their clothes, but on their faces and in their hair, as well. Classes were cut short as the entire student body rushed down to the gym for the Homecoming pep rally. The fall sports captains helped to excite the crowd during their relay race of dressing up in an assortment of clothes and competing in a pie-eating contest. Once the commotion died down, the Homecoming queen and her court were announced. Cara Devins was presented with flowers for the freshman class; Maggie DiStasio represented the sophomore class; Gretchen Chambers won for the junior class. The Homecoming", court for the senior class was made up of Elizabeth Harris, Jill Ziedman and Andrea Santilli, who was elected as queen. With the conclusion of the pep rally, the Student Council began to decorate for the dance. It was a big success and a great event that Thursday night, especially without having school the next day. The Homecoming football game drew a large crowd of fans for the Homecoming parade as well as for the football team. It was especially thrilling- as the team walked away with an exciting and much anticipated win over Medfield. School spirit was high, and this was just the beginning of school wide events for the 1998-1999 year.

The Man Who Came to Dinner

What time does the show start?" "What day?" These questions bounced along the corridors of WHS early in November. Which show was this? Of course, it was The Man Who Came to Dinner! Presented by the Westwood High School Performing Arts Department and directed by Mr. John Muldoon, the show was a big undertaking for all of us. Nevertheless, with a large and talented cast, the show was a huge success. "Remember, the show is a comedy," Mr. Muldoon reminded the excited cast before opening night, and "let the audience in." There is no doubt the cast fulfilled that request. From the moment the curtain opened, the audience knew it was in for a treat.

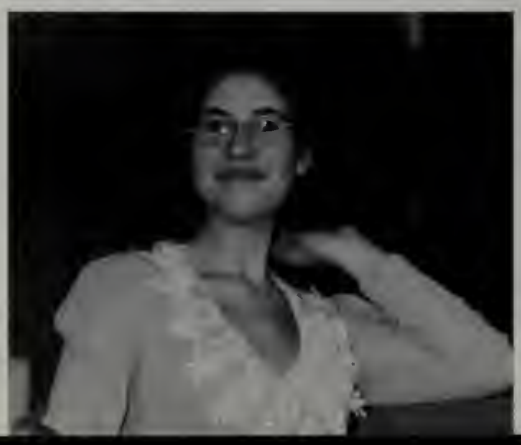

The show, which takes place in the late 1930's, is about a famous radio personality, Sheridan Whiteside. The "voice from the radio" visits the Stanley residence for dinner, slips on the doorstep breaks his hip, and is forced to stay at the house for ten days. During his stay, Sheridan is visited by all his friends, ranging from a "nerdy" German professor to a group of paroled convicts. (At one point, the cast takes a break, and the audience is treated to swing dancing to the music of "It don't mean a thing, id it ain't got swing.") He is also sent an array of animals, which included cockroaches, penguins and an octopus. The audience was not only delighted by the wonderful plot but in between acts the audience also listened to old radio shows and voices , such as from "The Great Gildersleeve" and "Our Miss Brooks."

Overall, the play was a success. The audience was "let in," and it laughed the night away. For two hours and forty minutes, the audience was taken back in time to the witty humor and nostalgia of the 1930's radio era.

WINTER CONCERT

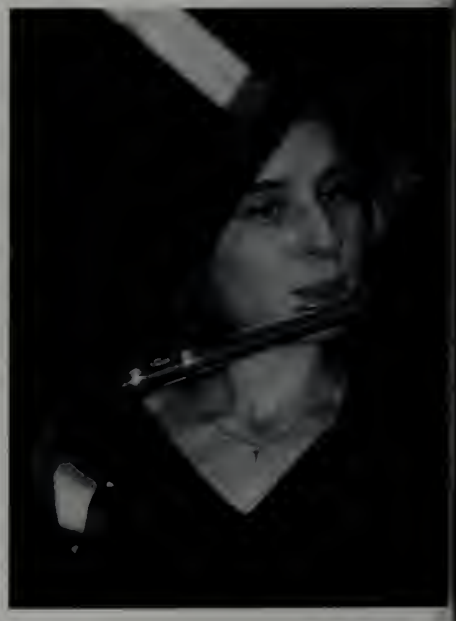

SPRING FLING

Mr. WHS and you know it!

Spring weather was upon us and Spring Fling was in the air. The week before April vacation far from dragged on - it galloped! To start the festivities, students sported crazy hats and Westwood green and white shirts. Many of these shirts were then drenched in dirt and foam as students took advantage of an X-Block schedule. Fireman's Foam was an event like no other. Students poured out of school and lined up at the edge of the outfield of the softball field. It was not all fun and games - it was a competition. Students scrambled to grab plastic eggs filled with money. Once these were uncovered from the foam, the fun was just beginning. Simply sliding and jumping around in the mess was entertaining, not to mention warmer than showering under the nearby hose. After seeing each other covered with mud and foam, students were given the chance to find a date. That was, of course, the next day at the dance and Mr. W.H.S. contest. By then the students had had time to recuperate and clean off. Karen Ryan was the first to single out a date - Jeff Guidici. However, by far the funniest round included acrobatic stunts from contestants in order to land a date with Matt Hillberg. Tiffany Berube was the lucky winner. Of course, this was not the end of Matt's enthusiasm for Spring Fling. It was dramatically heightened as he and Jeff Guidici danced and sang for the title of Mr. Westwood High. Bill Sheehan and Evan Brent also entertained the crowd both with dance and an interesting choice of attire. Eric Narciso and Robbie Hannon got the crowd singing. Tony Chiariello and Nate Weinstein were tough competition with their rap performance and their talented background dancers. Matt Hillberg and Jeff Guidici were crowned Mr. W.H.S. as the dance ended, and the spirited week of Spring Fling 1999 came to a close.

Too many girls - do I have to choose just one?

Please - he is going to be my date!

The contestants!

By far the best X-Block!

Crazy hat and proud of it!

How to Succeed in Business

Everyone wants to know the secret to success. However, it's always easier when one has a guide. The Westwood High School Performing Arts Department shared with the audience a few ways to get ahead in life without effort. The musical comedy, "How to Succeed In Business Without Really Trying", kept the audience captivated for three consecutive nights. With a cast consisting of over eighty students, conflicting schedules caused a rough start. "February was a rough month for the play- a lot of rehearsals were missed because of various conflicts, such as the fire and days off," commented one member of the cast.

Even with the hardships that the cast encountered, in the end everything came together. Not only did the show come together, but the large group learned to work with each other to produce a "success"-ful show.

Continuing with tradition, the last night of the show was filled with goodbyes, mostly to the seniors. Memories of the past four years filled the air as each senior was recognized for his or her participation. Hugs were given, and the cast went on to perform the last and best show of the three nights. As the adrenaline from the last few months diminished, the cast relaxed at the post-party and enjoyed the company of one another and the Chinese food!

The purpose of a school yearbook is to capture the events and memories of a past year, but publishing the final product takes more than it appears on the surface. The staff of twelve seniors spent many hours, during and after school, creating and organizing the saga of our class's and school's memories. Each member was assigned a section to complete. Whether it was the class survey, sports, senior section, or activities, each section entailed hours of work and dedication. Countless hours were spent typing write-ups, biographies, and making sure all were turned in. It was difficult to choose from the multitude of pictures and to determine which ones would forever be engraved in the memories of the seniors. Wanting to leave our mark as the last class of the nineteen-hundreds, we made sure that deadlines were met. So that the book would be treasured by all, we added aspects to make our book unique. Never before has a class like ours passed through the halls of Westwood High. Never again will a yearbook such as this be created! Tri-Editors Caitlin, Jennifer and Lesley would like to thank Mrs. Petrakos and the rest of the staff, for without them the yearbook could never have been completed.

Société Honorare de Francais

The French Honor Society induction was held in the fall of 1998. Students are invited annually by the entire World Language Department to become members. Membership is for one academic year only. Students must meet eligibility requirements, which are determined at the end of each school year. To become eligible, students must have a cumulative A- average or better in French and a B- average or better in all other classes. Students must also demonstrate good citizenship in the school community.

La Sociedad Honorária Hispánica promotes the understanding and appreciation of the Spanish language. Members are chosen because of their high academic performance in Spanish. This past fall SHH, led by Mrs. Linda Lannon, inducted forty-four new members who had received an A- or better as their final grade from their last Spanish class. The induction included processional and recessional piano music played by Daniel Eng and four speakers: Brian Greenberg, Edward Nai, Lesley Johnston, and Joanne Wan, all old members. Three inductees, Sara McGowan, Abby Onderdonk, and Deepti Dronamraju, were also chosen to speak in Spanish about why studying the language is important to them. The ceremony ended with the inductees lighting candles and signing their names in an honor notebook.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is an association dedicated to service in the high school and local communities. Members are recognized for their leadership abilities, scholarship, dedication to service, and moral character. This year's members truly exemplified these characteristics and shared their talents with the community. Nineteen ninety-eight and ninety-nine was a successful year for the Westwood High School National Honor Society. With nearly forty senior members, NHS contributed greatly to community service. At the induction ceremony in May 1998, Daniel Springer, Benjamin Wyler, Sarah Collins, and Caitlin Johnson delivered eloquent speeches on the topics of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. This year, meetings were held weekly during lunch blocks in order to discuss and organize service projects and the junior induction. Beyond the organized group projects, including volunteering at SNCARC, the Norfolk County Center for Retarded Citizens, members completed individual volunteer projects, working at teen centers, town functions, and lending a hand in city shelters. A fruitful year of service culminated in the 1999 induction ceremony, at which Mr. Brendan Dillon impressed and inspired the audience with his address. Katie Coy was honored, as she deserved, with the H. Joan Dillon Award, and the torch was passed on to the junior class. In addition, new senior members were honored with NHS membership. All in all, NHS accomplished a great deal. Between cooperative efforts and the hard work of many individuals, the members of NHS set an example of service and character for the high school community.

STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD

The Student Advisory Board worked this year to maintain and promote student interests and voice student concerns. We ran our annual Social Awareness Week and it was a smashing success. We brought Pancho Brown back to speak aboout the dangers of drugs, specifically alcohol and tobacco, and AIDS. SAB also teamed up with DARE and Officer Paul Toland to bring The Yellow Dress, which was a single-person dramatic performance on the dangers of dating violence. We also brought to the forefront with Eric's Story the concern of drinking and driving. Eric Nardone and his social-worker and lecturer sister Karen enabled the crowd to realize the destruction of a dream that can be caused by stupid decisions. To conclude, SAB welcomed Molly Kelly back to Westwood High after a five year hiatus. Mrs. Kelly spoke about teenage chastity and the power that each individual has over his or her own sexuality. SAB also ventured off into other arenas. We joined Student Council in a community service project and provided gifts for two needy families during the winter holidays. We also invited Superintendent Paul Ash to lunch, where we were able to discuss everything from the budget to the boys' and girls' room situation. The luncheon, furthermore, gave us the opportunity to share our perspective and vision for Westwood High. As a trial this year, we ran a small voter registration drive to make the process easier on our 18-year-olds. Our goal was to get students more involved in the politics of the world around us and it certainly was achieved.

Legislative Council

Legislative Council had an interesting session in 1998-1999. Amid controversy of the council's authority, much of our time was spent discussing the group's role and existence. In the meantime we found time to discuss a suggested alteration of the lunch-line system proposed to speed up the food serving process. The focus then shifted to electronic devices as the Council debated whether to allow music by the use of Walkman on a restricted basis. We also decided to institute a new leadership evaluation program so that students could be recognized and held accountable for their leadership abilities. The Council also held a community meeting. The meeting centered on the topics of the dismissal policy, drug use/abuse, the cafeteria, and the Reading & Research policy. Student ideas encourged the Council to work with the administration and to improve the R & R policy.

Judicial Council

The Judicial Council serves several important purposes as one of the three brances of the Westwood High School governance system. First and foremost, the role of the Judicial Council is to interpret the Westwood High School Constitution. The council adjudicates in cases concerning complaints and disputes arising between citizens and involving the activities and programs and the application and interpretation of the rules and procedures of the Westwood High community. Furthermore, the Judicial Council exercises all of the other powers normally associated with a judicial body. It acts on appeals of disciplinary decision, reviews the agreements and recommendations of the Arbitration Council, and establishes precedents for the handling of future cases. The decisions of the Judicial Council are put in writing and submitted to the principal and other administrators. The council has the power to make recommendations to the principal and the Legislative Council. The Judicial Council was accessed more often this year than had been the case in the past. Two main types of hearings and cases came before the council this year. Some hearings involved the interpretation of specific sections of the Westwood High School Constitution. Others often involved students challenging disciplinary procedures or decisions. In a high school governance system such as ours, it is a positivre thing to see the judicial branch accessed on a fairly regular basis during the school year. Overall, the activities of the Judicial Council this year were very successful.

Executive Branch

The Executive Branch of the Westwood High School consists of the Principal, the Assistant Principal and the Management Team. The Principal is considered the Chief Executive and implements the policies and rules of the School Committee, the Central Administration, the Legislative Council and the decisions of the Judicial Council. The Chief Executive also has the power to amend any decision or policy that he deems unreasonable or inconsistent with the policies of the Constitution.

Student Council and the Student Advisory Board co-sponsored the Tree of Giving in December. Holiday gifts were bought and given to two families.

The Student Council was enthusiastic during the 1998-1999 school year. This enthusiasm was seen throughout the entire school. Students energetically participated in Homecoming Week early in the fall. At the Homecoming Pep Rally the football team sported field hockey skirts as the entire school watched. Other students showed their love of competition in a traditional pie-eating contest. Student Council not only lifted the spirits of Westwood High but it lifted the spirits of needy families during the holiday season. A "Giving Tree" was placed in the lobby and gifts were contributed. The holiday season flew by and soon came a Valentine's Day dance. As spring approached, the Student Council was then busy planning for Spring Fling. The entire week was filled with school spirit and outrageous events. Crazy Hat Day kicked the week off. It was shortly followed by Fireman's Foam, where students spent the last block of the day in a mess of foam, mud, and plastic eggs filled with money. The Singled-Out event gave the opportunity for some lucky people to land their dream date. The much anticipated Mr. Westwood High contest was the highlight of the week. As senior boys showed their singing and dancing talents, the crowd went wild. The selected attire was eye-catching to say the least. It was a close competition, but the performance by Jeff Guidici and Matt Hillberg was the most attention getting. As they were crowned Mr. W.H.S., the dance ended and a very successful and unforgettable Student Council year came to a close.

PEER COUNSELORS

The purpose of Peer Counselors is to teach students how to develop basic counselling skills and attitudes. The goal is to develop positive attitudes toward helping others and serving as positive role models for younger students. The main activities are to lead ninth grade discussion groups with topics ranging from peer pressure to accepting differences in others, as well as getting ready for mid-year exams. The student counselors also serve as tutors and work with students one-to-one with personal issues. Students in the group are seniors and juniors only and must be recommended by a member of the faculty and go through an application and interview process. Furthermore, a peer counselor must be willing to give up his or her free block for training sessions.

The Mentor Program is an opportunity for high school students who live in Westwood to volunteer their time to teach and act as role models for the children in their community. Mentors can volunteer in a variety of dfferent ways, and can volunteer as little or as much as they have the time for. The program is run by Kristin Batista, who is the Youth Services Counselor at the Youth Commission. In the past year juniors and seniors volunteered one Friday every month at the Teen Center at Thurston Middle School. The Mentors were responsible for supervising the gym and dance areas, selling candy and soda, as well as for acting as responsible models for the seventh and eigth graders at Thurston. Mentors also volunteered for the Friends Network, which is a Big Brother/Big Sister type program that matches high school volunteers with elementary school children. Mentors met with their little friends for an hour every Tuesday from January through May. Through the Body Safety Theatre program, Mentors taught third graders how to keep their bodies safe. Sixteen volunteers rehearsed skits from February to May in order to prepare for their final performances in May. Mentors who volunteered for the Disability Awareness Program assisted in teaching second graders awareness of blindness, deafness, physical challenges, and mental retardation. Many students also volunteered at the Drop-In Program at Thurston. Every Thursday after school until 4:00 P.M., Mentors volunteered their time to spend with middle school students who attended the Youth Commission's after school drop-in center, where they played games, talked, and helped with homework. Kristin Batista: Thank you to all the Mentors who volunteered their time this year!

Key Club

The Key Club is a community service organization. Members volunteer on an individual basis at local places such as Norwood Hospital, the Ellis Nursing Home, the Islington Branch Library, and the Extended Day Care Center. In addition to individual activities, the club also participates in group related activities. This year Key Club collected canned goods for the Westwood Food Pantry. At Christmas we visited the Ellis Nursing Home and helped senior citizens write Christmas cards to their relatives. We successfully sold carnations for Valentine's Day and donated the money to the Cystic Fibrosis Fund. Some members participated in the climb up the Prudential Building to raise money for Cystic Fibrosis. We would like to thank students and faculty for donating to Pennies for Pine Street. We received the most money Key Club has ever collected in a while. Many thanks to all the dedicated members who regularly signed up for lunch duties and volunteered their time when they were needed. A special thanks to Mrs. Ann Matteson for her time and encouragement, We couldn't have done it without her!

Elna

ELNA promotes education, leadership, and non-violence through social and political activism. Every year, ELNA holds conferences where students from surrounding towns engage in workshops dealing with drugs and alcohol, homophobia, stereotypes, eating disorders, community service, and other issues of importance. Last summer ELNA held its first Summer Institute on Political and Social Activism. The Institute consisted of workshops, interactivity, a day of community service, and speakers such as US Senator John Kerry. We learned that even though we are young adults, we still have a voice. In December we participated in a conference titled "Voices Together, Bridges Between: Promoting Safe and Respectful Communities."Some members led one of the workshops titled "Students Looking at Our Stereotypes." In April, after the Columbine High School shooting, some members made blue and white ribbon pins and distributed them to students ands faculty. They not only signified the colors of Columbine High, but also the symbol of non-violence. We are working on what our community can do t helpWHS's own programs to prevent such event from happening. A special thanks to Mrs. Caro Gallagher for her support and encouragement and, of course, a very special thanks to Rachell Engler, our project coordinator.

Walking Octopus

The Walking Octopus is the aptly named school newspaper. Our duty, we believe, has been to inform the school community of relevant news. Because we are published through a local newspaper, we have also been able spread news about the school to the general community. The year 1998-99 began with high hopes. Thanks to the efforts of our advisor, Miss Kristina Caulfield, we received a five-thousand dollar grant from the Westwood Educational Foundation. Our first meeting drew the attention of more than thirty students, and work on our first issue began almost immediately. Unfortunately, for a variety of reasons ranging from miscommunication to trouble with the publisher to waning of interest on the part of the student body, we were not able to achieve our goals. Our first issue came out mid-winter. The initial feeling was that once we got the first issue off of our chests, we could make up for lost time. Unfortunately, we did not make the problems go away, so by the end of the year the senior staff had published only one issue. At the end of the year, the first meeting without the seniors attracted but five students, a direct consequence of the disappointing year. But there is hope. The new staff headed by Polly Smith, Krystal Law, and Catherine Frieman has already released one full-length issue, and hopes to have at least one more out by the end of the school year. As a result of the grant, the staff now has the ability to publish its own issues. We would like to thank Ms. Caulfield and everyone who has helped the paper through this difficult year.

No Parentheses

The purpose of No Parentheses is to provide an opportunity for students to publish their prose, poetry, and artwork. To enhance both the issue's appearance and content, this year's group also held poetry and cover contests with money prizes. The rest of our time was dedicated to organizing the 1998-99 edition of No Parentheses. We met every other week in a corner of the Writing Lab to peruse the variety of prose and poetry of WHS. After reading and discussing every submission, we selected the best of the lot and embarked on the most tedious part of the process, retyping the literature in a more uniform way. This year, however, we finally abandoned the old WHS (mostly Apple) computers in the Writing Lab for the "state of the art" PCs of our homes and the Media Center. After killing several trees with our photocopying, we carefully collated and assembled the issues one by one. Murphy's Law once again delayed our efforts in the final days, but the publication was nevertheless completed in time for Class Day with great success.

Academic Decathlon

Each year, high schools throughout the nation compete in a series of meets known collectively as Academic Decathlon. The meets, which begin at around eight A.M. on Saturday and end late in the afternoon, involve a series of tests in the subjects of mathematics, science, social sciences, economics, literature, art, and music. Students only compete against students with similar grade averages, so everyone receives equal opportunities of winning. For a relatively new team, Westwood's team has done remarkably well against experienced teams. Beginning in September, the team met once or twice every week during lunch to prep for the various subjects tested at the meets. In the November meet at Hopkinton, Westwood placed fifth out of twenty schools, three places short of making states. With an almost entirely new set of members, Westwood was able to place third at the February consolation meet at North Reading. Preparation for next year has already begun. Mr Doré hopes to eliminate the team's disadvantage of limited accessible materials by ordering supplementary material in addition to the core readings. With more comprehensive material and new members, the team is very optimistic about making States next year.

Math Club

The purpose of the Math Team was to advance student mathematical knowledge by solving problems both as individuals and as a team. One Thursday a month, the team would travel to a neighboring high school, where we feasted on snacks and beverages, while getting ready for the individual rounds. Here we would square off against the largest math brains in our division. The meet would split up into six rounds, each containing three questions pertaining to the specified topic. Rounds one through five were done individually. round one was arithmetic; round two, algebra; round three, geometry; round four, Algebra II and round five, advanced topics. Lastly, round six was the team round, where the starting ten participants split up into our two groups. The category of the team round changed every meet. The team made tremendous improvement over last year. We came within "an eyelash" of making the playoffs. This was due to Mr. Pender, our advisor, and to the great leadership of our team leaders, Krystal Law and Edward Naim.

Chess Club

The Chess Team had its best season in years, finishing third in the South Shore Interscholastic Chess League but just missing the playoffs. The team was led by its co-captains Izzat Jarudi and David Purpura, who decisively defeated some of the best chess players in the state at ranks 1 and 2. At the individual tournament in the spring, Izzat (David was on a college visit) finished in the top five in the league. But they couldn't do it alone. Sophomore Jon Murphy at rank 3, junior Manuel Avellan at rank 4, and senior Jay Poreda at rank 5 contributed consistent wins to support the team to its strong 6-2 record. We lose seniors Jay Poreda and Don Foster (alternate and rank 7), who have been vital to the chess team's success for the last four years, but the increasingly experienced nucleus of the team remains to continue the tradition of excellence at WHS and to compete for the championship next season.

Computer Club

The Computer Club was founded in the fall of 1996. Its purpose is to be an organization in which students can gather and relax after school. We do this by playing computer games, and, as a result, it is a welcome distraction to the stresses of school. To join this club one doesn't have to know too much about computers as games and teams are arranged according to skill levels. As a result, the games are a lot of fun for everyone.

Drama Club

Drama Club had a busy schedule this year. In the fall it was exciting to welcome all the new members who came to join us. We had a large number of freshmen who came in, as well as some upperclassmen. To start the year off, Drama Club performed a play entitled "The Costume Closet Treasure," which was written by a student. Filled with excerpts from various other plays, the script allowed for every student involved to have a role. As soon as this ended, the club moved on to its next task - Kids on the Block. The Drama Club puts on this program to help educate children about disability awareness. The next item on the agenda was the program for Encounter with the Arts. The Drama Club took on a Shakespearean mood and taught the audience how to insult in style - use Shakespeare! The last item on the agenda was for the Drama Club to say good-bye to the seniors of the group. It was now time for the juniors and underclassmen to carry on the play!

Festival/Lab Theater

The 1998-1999 Festival Lab Theater class consisted of seniors, juniors and one sophomore. Together, our group read a multitude of plays and decided on one show to perform for The Boston Globe Drama Festival. The show that we undertook was "Yerma" by Garcia Lorca. Contrary to traditional interpretation, we decided to place the time and setting in a '60's coffee shop. This made things difficult for us as actors, yet presented an interesting and dynamic challenge. The show was performed twice: once before the school and then at the festival, which was held on February 27th at Norwell High School. Although we did not advance in the competition, we felt that we had accomplished a great feat in doing this show. We overcame many obstacles and performed a successful play.

Kids on the Block

Kids on the Block is an educational program designed to teach kindergarteners disability awareness. Using puppets as an aid, students perform a skit for the children. In each of the skits, one of the puppets has a disability. For example, one of the puppets is blind and another has cerebral palsy. The students who are involved in this group practice many times without the puppets in order to learn the lines. Next comes the difficult part, combining the lines and using the puppets. The program was a big success again this year - the kids enjoyed watching it as much as the students performing it. Seniors who participated in Kids on the Block- Chris Ryan, Lesley Johnston, Diana DeLuca, and David Santopietro.

Unity

Unity held lunch meetings where we discussed important issues that we face in our school, in our communities, and in our world. The central focus of discussions was racism, tolerance for others, and the celebration of diversity. We also attended the fifth Team Harmony event at the Fleet Center in Boston.

Spectrum

In its second year of existence, Spectrum continues to try to educate others about alternative lifestyles and to become more tolerant and accepting of others. We attended conferences, spent grant money on books dealing with gay and lesbian issues in order to give to the library and held regular meetings with open discussions. The club has a relaxing environment and is open to everyone.

Ecolibrium

Ecolibrium, under the direction of Mrs. JoAnn Staiti, is dedicated to promoting awareness of the need to preserve the environment as a place safe for future generations. In addition, it encourages students to get involved with the environment through the school. The club provided recycling boxes in each classroom and teachers, as well as students, were encouraged to recycle.

Boys' & Girls' State

Girls' State, a leadership conference held at Mount Holyoke College, lasted a week. Meetings were held everyday, where we learned how to establish and operate local and state government. We were also taught how to become better leaders in our schools and communities. After forming two political parties, we prepared platforms and composed party songs and cheers. We also nominated, campaigned for, and elected girls to various state offices. Girls' State also showed us contributions that women can and should make to all phases of government. We learned the value of hope, the understanding of the rights of others, and the value of friendship and loyalty. I had an outstanding time at Girls' State and recommend that more juniors try for it. It was a great preparation for college, as well as a terrific way to meet hundreds of girls one's own age from all over Massachusetts. - Rachel Suazo

David Santopietro, Jesse Laudon, and Steven Martisauskas were Westwood's representatives to Boys' State, which was held at Westfield State. Similar activities took place.

Students Advocates

The Student Advocacy program was designed only three years ago by Mrs. Joanne Staiti in order to ensure fair representation and appropriate attention to those students bringing a case to Judicial Council. The responsibility of a student advocate is to help a community member develop and organize his or her case before the Judicial Council trial. The student advocates are volunteers - they are not elected by the student body. When a student expresses interest in bringing a case to the Judicial Council, Mrs. Staiti assigns him or her a student advocate. Together, the advocate and the student develop the case, take care of paperwork responsibilities and eventually present the case to the Council. Student advocates are completely independent of the Judicial Council. While there were not many Judicial Council hearings this year, the student advocates helped out when they could and ensured every student bringing a case to the Judicial Council fair attention and representation

SADD

The goal of SADD is to involve students in activities that promote abstinence and responsible behavior involving alcohol and illegal substances. In addition, students invite outside speakers, distribute button and key chains, and participate in "White Out Day" in order to dramatize the effects of drunk driving. This year SADD and the Student Advisory Board co-sponsored guest speaker Karen Nardone, who presented "Eric's Story," an account of how a drunk-driving accident impacted and changed her young brother's life.

FOOTBALL

The "Rebuilding" Year

SUMMARY OF SEASON: We knew from the start that we would have a rough season, mostly because of inexperience, and a lack of team unity. We had no idea that it would be that rough. We got "shell-shocked" at Lynn Classical. For many of our players it was their first varsity game. Then at Hopkington we were getting beat 14-0 when Bateman was air-lifted out of the game. We started to come together but not in time. We only could score 7 points before the clock ran out. We showed the league how inexperienced we really were. The Dover and Ashland games were just shameful. The Millis game, however, was a turning point. After that, things came together. We managed to show that with a little experience we were not a 0-and something team. We won our next two games against Medway and Medfield,then a tough game against the Blackhawks, but we made everything okay by beating Holliston in the Turkey Day game. MEMORIES: Farren's jumping jacks,"It's not just high energy, it's High INTENSITY, too!", "Hey! We Just lost here!", Tony dealin' crack (sweatpants), Pierson's sister, HIGH INTENSITY practices, Pizzo, Can't stop the right side!" Spencer's ability to make players quit. Bateman's heli-ride. CREATIVE AWARDS: Best Looking Sister: Pierson's; Smartest: Mastaj and Shemin; Best Speeches: Spencer; Most Dedication: Billy Ryan; Fastest Sprints: Andre Huss; Punctual Award: Mastaj; Coolest Gang: Dukes; BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: WIN MORE! MOST MEMORABLE GAME:The Millis Game... We knew it was going to be a very difficult game. We went into the game 0-4 and they were 4-0. In the past Millis had been a very dirty team. This game, we showed we couid play as a team. Every play we had a number of guys smashing into Tingly and Angel. We, in all aspects, shut down Tingly and Angel. Too bad they went to their full-back and managed to score 26 points that way. Even though we lost 26-0, this was a success for #73 because he accomplished what he wanted. . . hurt Tingly.

FIELD HOCKEY

Kazim Kazaam

Summary of Season: For the past fifteen years, the Westwood field hockey team has come close to dead last in the TVL; however, the 1998 varsity team changed things around. This year we ended up third in the league, trailing only Holliston and Bellingham. We started the season off with an amazing victory against our rival Medfield with a score of 2-0. Midway through the season, we continued in a seven game non-losing streak. In that time we qualified for state tourney in our home game against Natick. We seeded 14th in Division II and our first game was against 17th seeded Hull. Hull thought they had an advantage because of their previous tourney experiences. We proved them wrong. We won in double overtime on a penalty stroke taken by goalie Beth Heneberry. We went further into the tourney for our second game against third seeded Westport. We fought hard but did not come out with a win. It was a wonderful season and our record will be hard to beat by future Westwood field hockey teams. MEMORIES: Cutting through school, frosting, where's Waldo? football team in kilts, trips, out of camp, Saturday practices, nonexisting balloons, special places, magic spot, shorties, green card, the winning attitude, field hockey super- stars CREATIVE AWARDS: Always on Time Award - Rachel; Most Fashionable - Melissa; Ghetto Super Star Award - Sara McG; Highest Voice Award - Lauren; Happy Award - Courtney; Gossip Award - Betsy. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: We leave to the 1999 team our winning record, the tourney, the tradition of cutting through the school, Lauren's "inspiring" speeches, Courtney's attitude, and Melissa's cell phone. MOST MEMORABLE GAME: Our most memorable game happened on our home field against Natick. We successfully defeated Natick 2-0 and we were headed for tourney.

BOYS' SOCCER

"Entirely a Struggle"

SUMMARY OF SEASON: The 1998 Westwood Boys' Soccer season was entirely a struggle. That being said, we did enjoy ourselves in practices, at dinner, and at games. Our coaches, Coach Burke and Coach Alton, were darned good ones. Not only did they work us to the verge of collapse each time we put our cleats on, but they were somewhat entertaining as well. We will miss them and the hell they put us through for two months each of our years during high school (except Doug, who could only stand one year). We actally played some extraordinary soccer as far as passing, emotion, and often defense are concerned; we did have our troubles putting the ball in the net, however, and it cost us a tourney berth. In retrospect it becomes easier to think of all the good times that happened, though, like when Bud Griffin tried to control a ball and he was knocked on his behind by it. Even more heartwarming was his mother's laugh after it happened. MEMORIES: Matthew Harrington's gloves, Benjamin Wyler's shirt and obscenely short shorts, Kieran's licentiousness, Alton's dog, all of Alton's women, The melodious voice of Patricia Griffin, Sailing across the field, J. GIRLS' SOCCER

What Time Is It?

Summary of Season: After a few years of strenuous double sessions, the seniors found them a breeze this year. As usual, we were throughly entertained by Nubbs and his coaching techniques. We started the season by demolishing our strong Medfield rival. The boys' soccer team was greatly appreciated as they stood with painted bare chests in the cold. We love you, guys! A few weeks later we faced defending state champs, Medway, for another night game. We played an unbelievable game as we stepped up to our competition, but unfortunately they scored the only goal in the next twenty seconds of the game. Memories: Our first night game at Medfield, awesome fans (boys' soccer team), North Carolina, hanging from the trees, rumbling on the bus, Connelly's handsignals, verbal anger to Nubb, drooping, Nubb's awful joke, brawls after Dedham scrimmage, captain talks, Mr. Praino screaming at the Millis ref (we have it on tape), Nubb's shorts, hanging tough, Mrs. Praino's cookies, Mrs. Butler's dancing. Creative Awards: Best Pregamer-Andrea Barr; Best Cooked Turkeys Award- Lindsay and Jesscia Turk; Best Player on the Middle School Field-Stephanie Praino: The Shiny Spandex Award-Courtney Kenney, The 4:20 Award-Nikki & Cristen Butler; Kung Fu Fighting Award-Katie Connelly, The T.Turster. Bequest to Next Year's Team: Good luck and get Hanover! Most Memorable Game: We had many great games this season, including both games against Medway and Hopkinton, but the most memorable game was our second game at Holliston. We went from losing to Holliston 11-0 our freshman year to tying them our senior year. Although we didn't win, the tie was very satisfying. There were many moments on both sides of the field when tensions were high. Katie Kenney did an excellent job in the goal as did the rest of the team on the field. We held the very strong Holliston team until the end and also created many opportunities for ourselves. Hopefully next year's team can beat them for us!

BOYS' CROSS COUNTRY

A Rebuilding Year

SUMMARY OF SEASON: This year the cross-country team experienced a building season. Having our first meet canceled, we were provided with more time to prepare. Practicing as a team for the first three weeks of school we prepared for the challenge ahead of us- the meet against Medfield. We were not victorious against Medfield; however the meet made us realize where we needed improvement. During the season we faced many upsets, many exciting meets that were close and a win! The difficult course at Hopkinton State Park made the defeat against Hopkinton encouraging. Even though the team experienced some obstacles during the season we managed to work together by having fun and doing our best as a building team in a competitive league. MEMORIES: Long, revealing bus rides. Adventures in Holliston. Wood. John Sharry's initiation. Brian Greenburg. Carlson's smile. Mike DiLalla and his renagade warriors. Squirrel brains. Do it for Johnny. God is good, God is great...CREATIVE AWARDS: Most Likely Not to Attend Practice: Just about everyone; Most Likely to be Wanted by the FBI: Lee Baker; Best Dressed: David Purpura; Unpopular Science Award: Rob DiLalla; Elbow Tosser of the Year: Jim Lane. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: Finish the season MOST MEMORABLE MEET: The meets do not fill my memory. For years to come I will remember the faces. The long bus rides from far away lands provided insights to the world's problems. We bonded as men in a world where male bonding is not always accepted. I love you all. You've touched my heart.

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

This Year We Made a Good Call!

SUMMARY OF SEASON: We did really well this season...all considering we had a first year coach and five girls! We finished 3-2 with the first girls' cross country team's winning record in fifteen to twenty years! We also had a lot of fun...even though we had our share of medical problems (Lauren's heart thing, Katie's costal chronditis, Abby's mono, Jill's practicitis...) All in all, we made a good call this year! MEMORIES: Katie and Muldoon's "Good call"...The gym incident with Charlie...The Bellingham meet...Hopkinton State Park ...The bus rides...Bill and Perkins. CREATIVE AWARDS: Most Likely to Have Something Wrong With Her: Katie MacDonald; Most Likely to Bring Homework to a Meet: Erin Kinney; Most Likely to Stop Practice Because of Homework: Jill Kahlert; Most Likely to Cry After a Meet: Lauren Perkins; Most Likely to Check Out Guys with Katie: Abby Onderdonk; Most Likely to Cheer for the Other Team: Mr. Muldoon. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: Well, since we are all going to be on the team next year, we'd like to leave a good record! MOST MEMORABLE MEET: Our most memorable meet was the Bellingham meet. It was the meet that decided our record at 2 & 3 or 3 & 2. We had to win. And in the end, with less than a quarter of a mile to go, each team member passed either one or two people to clinch the meet! We won, an absolute clincher...27 to 29!

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball Vixens

Summary of Season: Our season was not what many people would call successful. We were by no means a force in the Tri-Valley League and a lot of teams took us for granted. However, this year the Westwood High Girls' Volleyball Team experienced what one might call an emotional breakthrough. Finally, after two previous seasons of turmoil, we came together as a team. As teammates, we forged strong friendships that extended beyond the volleyball court. Our season was filled with spaghetti dinners, trips to Papa Gino's, and constant singing in the back of the bus. We actually made excuses to hang out with each other. Every player on the team had a unique personality that made for an interesting and eternally fun mixture of people. Jackie delighted us with her raps, while Melanie made us squeal with her erotic dances in the middle of Papa Gino's. Christine DiStasio and Christine Mooney never failed to make everyone smile and Caitlin amazed the team with her uncanny resemblance to the prototypical '80's girl. Everyone shook their heads as Sara cracked her subtle yet hilarious jokes, and we all listened intensely as Katherine told stories from her weekend adventures. Kelly Gallagher reminded us to stay sane as she sweetly smiled and shook her head, and the sneaky freshman Kerri Bergen quickly endeared herself to all the upperclassmen with her hard work and humble attitude. Nine extremely different girls found a way to come together and make a losing season a great one. On the court, although we always gave our best effort, things were not exactly quite so successful. Millis, Medfield, and Medway defeated us with little trouble, and although we fought hard, we fell to Bellingham twice. However, some thrilling games made their way into our season. We decimated Foxborough two times and defeated Ashland and Hopkinton both, once in especially close matches. No one could deny that we made every team work for every point it won. By far our most exciting game was our first one. We were playing Holliston, a team that has dominated Tri-Valley volleyball for as long as anyone can remember. We all went in scared out of our minds, believing that we stood little or no chance. When the game commenced, we left all that behind and played like we never imagined we could. The game flowed for us. Melanie's sets to Jackie, Caitlin, Kelly, Katherine, and Kerri were perfect, and they followed us with stunning kills from outside middle and weak-side. The first game was an easy victory, but we fell asleep during the second game and lost 15 to 9. Before the third game, we made a concerted effort to play like we showed we could and break Westwood's losing streak against Holliston. We came roaring back and won 15 to 11! After the game we had a group hug in the center of the court. We were on top of the world.

STANDOUTS

Sara Onderdonk

When it came to passing, we knew we could always count on "Bonkers." She came through in tough situations and saved some key plays. Her off-the-wall humor always kept us on our toes.

Christine DiStasio

Besides being a wonderful person and always making us smile, Big 'D' was, in our opinion, one of the best defensive players in the league. When we played in Bellingham, Big 'D' stepped in and set when Melanie couldn't make it. Above all, Big 'D' was dependable.

Katherine Koteles

Katherine had one of the most powerful serves in the Tri-Valley League. On top of that she could hit. She played with intensity and heart. She added a whole new dimension to our team.

GIRLS' SWIMMING & DIVING TEAM

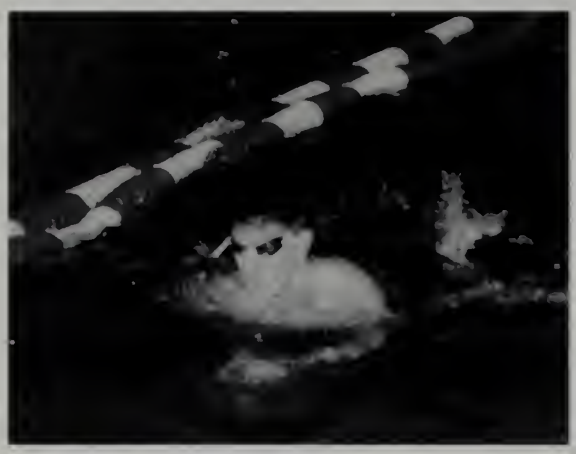

Touch It!

Summary of Season: The Girls' Swimming and Div ing Team had an incredible season. Not only did we have an outstanding season in the water with an amazing record of 11-1, but we also shared some everlasting memories and fun outside the pool. The team itself consisted of some great girls, and together we shared a tight bond of support and friendship. We had some excellent swimmers and breathtaking races, and everyone always gave it their all. The talent and depth of our team was apparent in our success. What wasn't captured in the numerous articles written about our victories, however, was our ability to have a fun time and learn the true meaning of what a team is. We always had a great time. Thanks for a great season! During every practice and in every meet, we put in all efforts. MEMORIES: The bus ride to North Attleboro...K ylee, Tina, and Mrs. Harris' locker room experience... BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: This year we had some incredible talent and outstanding fun times. We hope that next year's team has just as much fun and success. MOST MEMORABLE MEET: Our most memorable meet was clearly against Bishop Feehan. Feehan has always been one of our hardest meets of the season. For the past five years, the score has always been close, but with Feehan ending victoriously. This year we were ready to win. As a team we swam our hearts out, and in the final race, we won the meet 87-83. The win was a team effort - everyone contributed. The cheers, the spirit, the hard work, the great races - it was all terrific.

MEN'S SWIMMING

Many Prove Their Worth

Summary of Season:After two weeks of vigorous practice and possibly the largest turnout in Westwood's history, we opened the season. Led by Captains Nate Weinstein, Dan Springer, and Chris Gallagher the team won three of the first eight meets. Striving to finish with a winning record, we rose up and won our last five meets, finishing with a record of 8-5. This was possibly the most wins by any Westwood Men's Swim Team. One included a dramatic win over Seekonk. Using our numbers and skills we pulled out a two point victory over a team that this year's seniors had never beaten. Our last dual meet came on an unusual day. After being dismissed from school early due to a fire, we made our way to Middleboro. After a delay dueto a fire inMiddleboro the meet came down to the last event. Needing a first and third place finishes to win, we did just that. Next up came Conferences. With a week's worth of practices, we were ready. Many dropped their times and some even took top place finishes. Ending the season with Sectionals, we pulled together enough kids over vacation to fill the relay teams. Most of the youngsters got to prove their worth while Jon Dick and Chris Gallagher swam in individual events and relays. A few weeks after Sectionals, we officially ended the season with our annual brunch at Finian's

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Team to Beat

SUMMARY OF SEASON: At the first team meeting with Coach John LeVangie, John reminded us that we were afhad our work cut out and that the season was the most talented team in the TVL. After hearing this, the team still had little doubt doubt that we were the most talented team in the TVL. WHS was picked to finish in the middle of that TVL. Teams like Ashland and Hopkinton were heavily favored to win the league. Though very undersized, Westwood proved right away they were the team to beat. With a one point win over Ashland in the first game, and a come- from- behind win over Hopkinton despite having Senior Captain Matt Lederhos out with an ankle injury, proved the Westwood squad to be one of the top contenders in the league. Unfortunately, the team was stricken by injury. Mike Thompson had injuries on and off during the whole season. Jeff Guidici came down with an ankle sprain. Both big men, Matt Lederhos and Bill Sheehan, missed their share of games and practices due to ankle and knee injuries. Even through injuries, the team stepped up play and earned respect in the TVL. Our overall record of 11-10 didn't give the respect we deserved but with a league record of 11-5, we made our name known. However, this season was very disapointing. There were a number of games we could have and definitely should have won. Although we had the talent to make it far in the tournament, we again got knocked out in the first round. Although the season was very frustrating, this year was the most fun out of any. MEMORIES: "Squint nod"...yeah..., BC High/Lexington Video, Purpura's Bathroom, Super Fans; "I don't know, guys, I just don't know." MOST MEMORABLE GAME: Hopkinton High came into our gym first in the TVL. Westwood's big men were undersized by six or seven inches. But Westwood came to play this night. The game was close throughout the whole first half. HHS had a two point lead coming out of the half. Westwood came ready to play the second half but so did Hopkinton. The game stayed close. Teams were trading off baskets. The game stayed close until HHS started to pull away with about three minutes left. With only one and a half minutes left in the game, Hopkinton was up by eight points. Things weren't looking good for the Wolverines. But with superb team work by Guidici, Sheehan, Greenberg, Lederhos and Barry, Westwood secured their second victory over the Boys' TVL champs. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: A winning season!

RESPECT!

Summary Of Season: This year we had a very young team. With only two seniors, Andrea Santilli and Nikki Delaney, there wasn't a lot of pressure as in years past. But this season was very special. Although we ended up 18-5 overall, 14-2 in the TVL, we all played our hearts out until the very end. This year we lost five games. Two were to Medfield, one was to St. Peter Marian, a very powerful Division 2 team; another was to a Division 1 Central Mass. power, Holy Name of Worcester by one point. And finally, all this talk about the Massasoit Jinx happened again this year but only by one point to Rockland. So next year, the jinx will be broken with a little help and leadership from the upcoming seniors. We wish next year's team the best of luck and thank you for all the memories. Memories: Inspiration, no fans, Fuel and Hickey, Molly's dancing, fouling out, guidance hours, Christy and Kelly, Blondies, Liz's bag, Butler's shot, Holbrook's snacks, fights, Massasoit, Nathan and Mike, New Years, Tommy, TVL Champs, Paradise, Smackdown, bus rides, Fairweather Friend, Hero, P.E.W., Joey #1 Fan. Bequest to Next Year's Team: Beat Medfield; make it past Massasoit; get the year 2000 on the banner! Most Memorable Games: This season we had two very memorable games. One was a league game against Medway. We had about ten seconds left and the ball went to Andrea Barr's hands. She shot and missed, but our sophomore center, Katie Holbrook, tipped it in at the buzzer and we won by two. The other most memorable game was the South-Sectional Semi-Finals against Rockland at Massasoit. We had had the worst luck at that awful gym and this year it continued with our losing by one point. Although Andrea Barr fouled out, the team stepped up and we got experience and leadership from the two captains, Andrea Santilli and Nikki Delaney.

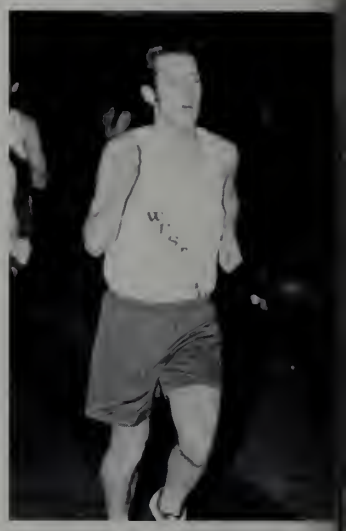

BOYS' INDOOR TRACK

Inadequate Numbers

Summary of Season: Coach Gary Burke and assistant coach Kyle Burke began the winter season with the lofty purpose of immortalizing themselves, by earning the first indoor-track championship banner ever to be gloriously displayed on Westwood High's gymnasium wall. In its four year history, Westwood's indoor team had never failed to achieve second place in the Tri-Valley League, and the time seemed ripe for a first. But this year among the league's six boys' track teams, Westwood finished with a mere third place. Westwood easily won its first meet against Hopkinton, whose team finished the season in last place. However, Westwood soon encountered misfortune. Junior sprinter and hurdler Nick Goebeler, who had been the team's top point-scorer, suffered a leg injury that prevented him from competing for the rest of the season. And Ben Wyler, a senior tri-captain and Westwood's relay anchor and principal middle-distance runner, hurt his hamstring and lost weeks of practice, a period from which his 1000-meter race never entirley recovered. Inadequate numbers, a disadvantage from which every Westwood boys' indoor track team has suffered, made filling the gaps from the loss of last year's six outstanding seniors a tough task. Westwood's team of fourteen athletes spread out over ten events, stood little chance against teams with more than fifty members. Under such difficulties, Westwood mustered a dual-meet record of 2-3. And, as the coaches had predicted, the team pulled through the league meet — the final meet in which all six teams compete — in last place. However, for a number of Westwood team members this season was a productive one. Junior tri-captain Chris Coy made notable accomplishments in the mile and two-mile races. Coy was the only Westwood runner to compete in the Class D state meet, in which he ran the two-mile and finished eighth. Junior Chris Kim began his running career as Westwood's top competitor in both the 40-yard and 300-yard dashes. Sophomore Conor Cashman, also in his first indoor-track season, was an important force in the 600 and the 4x400 relay. Other newcomers to the team included juniors Kieran O'Keary and Bill McHugh, sophomore Mark Harrison and freshman Lee Baker, who all demonstrated their ability to support Westwood track in coming years. And a last minute, though long sought, addition to the team was junior sprinter Steve Mullen, who was persuaded to run in the last two meets. Memories: janitors hall soccer and dodging little kids. Creative Awards: Most Likely to Drop Coach's Son on His Head: Mike Berube; Least Likelyto Utter an Intelligible Sentence: Chris Coy. Bequest to Next Year's Team: Ten new door pegs and a lot of good luck.

Chris Ryan
A long-distance runner, Ryan would have won every race if he hadn't taken it upon himself to run seven extra laps each time, just for the challenge.

Ben Wyler
Ben went and heroically injured his hamstring so that he wouldn't have to run. Gee, thanks, Wyler.

Dan Eng
Eng is clearly one of the most talented athletes in the nation, but his specific talents are so obscure that we have not yet identified the race he can win.

BOYS' HOCKEY

Backcheck, Forecheck, Paycheck!

Summary of Season: The team began its season by winning The Ice-Breaker Tournament in Fall River. These two wins set the stage for another great Wolverine season. The Wolverines were led by their senior core, who were seeking their fourth consecutive TriValley League Championship. Powered by a potent offense and a determined defense, the Wolverines made short work of the TVL, finishing with a 11-1-2 record and capturing their fourth consecutive title. Unfortunately, the Wolverine's success did not carry over into the post-season as they dropped a heart-breaker 2-1 to a game that could have gone either way. Memories: Mornings at Nobles; Winning Ice-Breaker Tournament; Tri-Valley League Campions; Lake Placid, NY.; MG and the GS; Tourney haircuts; Shawna's house (Thanks, Galvin), Bus rides; Lovin' Feeling; "I still have my faculties; Post-game ritual; Super fans; Mr. B; Chaz Bomba; Where did Hannon go..."I was looking for a pillow...in the kitchen" - B. Creative Awards: Fruit Loop Award-Mark Barravecchio; Most Likely to Break Welby's Record-Adam Packer; Best Haircut Award-Brendan Morgan; Backchecking Award-Matt Hillberg; Most Likely to Get in Fight After a Game-Brian Baldassari; Perfect Attendance Award-Eric Narciso. Bequest to Next Year's Team: To win a fifth consecutive TVL championship. Most Memorable Game: Westwood vs Holliston on 1/20/99. The Wolverines were coming off a big win over rival Bellingham and were confident that they would not have too much of a problem with the young Panthers. However, it was not so easy. It was touch and go until the last forty seconds of the third quarter when TVL leading scorer Matt Hillberg collected a loose puck in front, spun around the net, and dished it off to an open Rob Hannon, who deposited it for a goal and a 4-3 lead. The Wolverines never looked back from there as Rob Hannon, Mike Galvin, Mark Barravecchio, and Tony Chiariello all collected points in the third period to assure the 8-3 win for Westwood.

GIRLS' ICE HOCKEY

Another Great Season!

Summary of Season: Under the leadership of first year coaches Richard White and Michael Beaumont, the Girls' Ice Hockey Team completed another great season. Making it to the semi-finals of the Belmont Public High School Girls' Hockey Tournament was the team's most stunning achievement. This was made possible by the victory over fourth-seeded Lincoln-Sudbury, a great accomplishment for the fifth-seeded Westwood. Assistant coaches Andrea Beaudreaux and Michael Mastrobattista made the five a.m. practices much easier. Though the season itself wasn't a record one, the team improved beyond all expectations and continues to do so. Memories: Bus rides, Tootsie pops, early morning practices, Meghan's outfits, locker room chats, butterfly drill, semi-finals. Creative Awards: Tardiness Award - Jenny Reagan; Strangest Outfits Award - Meghan Kehoe; Best Hair After Hockey Award - Gina Oliveri. Bequest to Next Year's Team: A great season and a chance to beat Acton-Boxboro. Most Memorable Game: The most memorable game was the quarter final tournament game against Lincoln-Sudbury. The upset over Lincoln-Sudbury was a great one with only one goal by Jenny Reagan. Goalie Emily McKissock came up with thirty-five saves to hold off the opposing team. The unexpected win led Westwood into another exciting game against first-seeded Acton-Boxboro. THANKS TO THE COACHES AND FANS!

BOYS' LACROSSE

SUMMARY OF SEASON: This year proved to be the most successful year in Wolverine lacrosse history. With an impressive 11-6 record, we rolled into our first tourney berth in the sport's four year history.The season got off to a shaky start with two lopsided losses to Ashland and Weston.Then we hit the road, playing a number of games a great distance from home.We started at Swampscott, winning in overtime.Then we traveled to Lynn, Bishop Connelly, Martha's Vineyard, and Blackstone Valley, putting together a string of victories.We finished the season with wins over Bedford and Catholic Memorial, as well as an emotional win over cross-town rival Xaverian.We exceeded all expectations but fell to powerhouse Falmouth in the first round. MEMORIES: Storytime, spotting cars, Jerry's girlfriend, Nate's lies, tourney berth, Swampscott, Bird's skill, Fats, picking on Doug. CREATIVE AWARDS: Eats the Least - Mike Berube; Best Truth Teller- Nate Weinstein; Best Stick Skills - Matt Hillberg; Most Tolerant - Doug Heffel. MOST MEMORABLE GAME:After a long trip to Swampscott, we pulled off an overtime upset.With a handful of injuries on defense, we went down 9-3 in the third quarter.Then we hit our stride and put together a string of six unanswered goals. In overtime we scored the game winner within two minutes. It was truly the turning point of our season.

GIRLS' LACROSSE

SUMMARY OF SEASON: Although the season started off slowly, we quickly picked up the intensity and started winning.We reached our goal of beating last year's season and broke 500.Throughout the season we constantly trained hard and focused on being a better team.Besides all the running, drills, and sprints, we came together as a team and really bonded well with each other.Our team was very close and it showed on the playing field.We all worked well togetjher and by our record we accomplished our dream of making the tournament.This season really gave people "something to talk about" because we worked hard on improving our record And improving the amount of respect and recognition women's lacrosse gets.We won the last six of our games and tied our rival, Dover-Sherborn, which ended a great season.MEMORIES: The trip to Nantucket, Meg Heneberry's dance before games, post games, rumbles, red-eye, crazy bus rides, Leslie's long runs and brutal practices, Helmet's precious, the Mexican, snake-eyes, Anissa's war marks on her neck, shortcuts on the runs.CREATIVE AWARDS: Most Energetic- Meghan Holden as she's always fueled before every game and most of the practices; Longest Stick Award-Katie Dunn because many of her goals got called back because of the annoying crease violation rule; Most Dependable -Jenny Reagan because she's always early and never makes the bus wait; Most Kind- Liz Harris because she let people use her already used mouth guard when it was needed. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: To continue our lacrosse traditions and good luck next season especially when you reach tournament.MOST MEMORABLE GAME: The most memorable game was playing D-S.We fought really hard throughout the whole game and the score was extremely close. We were down by one goal with a minute aand some odd seconds left when the ref blew the whistle to end the game.This was really upsetting and frsutrating because we had the ball down their end and we were about to score.The ref made a bad decision by calling the game before it was officially over and he cost us the game.This was a major upset because we controlled the game and we wanted the win..

BASEBALL

Back on Top

SUMMARY OF SEASON: Having only lost two seniors from last year's TVL championship team and returning the entire pitching staff, the team had high hopes entering this season. Due to inconsistent play, the team didn't repeat as league champs, but still finished with a more than respectable record of 14-6 to earn a fairly high seed in the state tournament. After starting out the year with a last inning loss to Ashland, the team won six straight games heading into the break. Things were looking good until a disappointing loss to eventual league champions Bellingham. The team then bounced back to win three straight games including a big win over league power Ashland. After a little slump in the middle of the season, the team finished up strong by trouncing Bellingham 11-1 and Holliston 10-3, thus entering the Division 3 South Tournament on a high note. This year was another successful year for Westwood baseball. MEMORIES: Pearl Harbor attack on Bud Griffin, "I don't know. It's the battle," Timmy Farren - "Baseball!", Mullen and the Medway Ump - "Oh, my God!". Trio of terror, B's stories, Planetarium shows - Did they make a move on that flight? CREATIVE AWARDS: Hardest Worker - Chris Mastaj; Umpire's Favorite -Steve Mullen; Best Uniform - John Murphy. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: Play hard - no mental mistakes. Good luck making the tourney. MOST MEMORABLE GAME: The team's best played game of the year occurred when it beat TVL Champion Bellingham 11-1, thus proving the team had as much talent as anyone in Division 3. There was strong pitching, flawless defense and great hitting. For the first time all season, it put everything together. The team wasted no time putting the game away as they saved four runs in the first inning, capped by Russ Doherty's three runs homerun to left. As the team continued to shut down Bellingham in the field, they scored more runs to push the lead to 9-1 in the fifth inning. Mark Griffin hit a three run home run and Chris Lamber added a solo shut of his own. Russ Doherty capped the scoring in the sixth when he ripped a two run double to left. Matt Lederhos finished the day on the mound allowing two hits and striking out a career-high sixteen batters. Shortstop Rob DiLalla made several great plays in the field and John Murphy turned in a solid game behind the plate.

STANDOUTS

Russ Doherty

After a great junior season, there were high hopes for the senior 1st baseman this year. He established himself as one of the top 1st basemen in the TVL and was heavily counted on at the plate.

Chris Lambert

Not only was he one of the top hitters on the team, but also he had the best pitching record on the team at 5-0. He added depth to the team at many positions.

Rob DiLalla

Playing arguably the toughest position in the field, he was without a doubt the best fielding shortstop in the TVL. He came through with many clutch hits and was an ultimate team player.

Ladies on the Line

SUMMARY OF SEASON: We lost some talent leaving the '97-'98 team behind, but we were up to the challenge. Our season started off with a loss, but we battled back on the winning track shortly after.There were ups and downs, struggles and victories: thirteen inning games against Medfield, a tight first game vs. Holliston, an extra inning win over Medway, and a heartbreaking loss to Millis. However, our tourney hopes were taken away by losses both to Millis and to Holliston, putting us below the .500 mark.Nevertheless, we worked hard together and created humurous memories and friendships that will last a lifetime. MEMORIES: Back of the bus talks with the baseball boys; freshman harassment; running before, during, and after games; Diane's grunts,Tracy's food, Beth's skipping. CREATIVE AWARDS: Biggest Grunt Award - Diane Cummings; Best Stories - Cary Winer; Biggest Mouth -Lauren McCarthy; The Supermarket Award - Tracy True. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: Keep on running! We love you! Best of luck next year! MOST MEMORABLE GAME: The most memorable game was away in Medfield.We battled back and forth throughout the whole game. At the end of seven innings, we were tied. The score went up and down, but by the end of each extra inning both teams were dead even. Westwood took the lead in the top of the thirteenth, but Medfield had one more chance to take it, which they did. With both bases loaded and two outs, they scored a runner in. It was a heartbreaking, well-played loss.

BOYS' SPRING TRACK

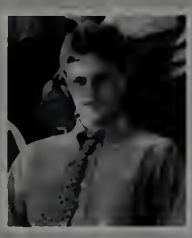

Speedy Studs

SUMMARY OF SEASON: The Boys' Spring Track Team started the season by entering a talented and competitive league. We had a number of athletes on the team, all of whom worked diligently to improve themselves. Our claim for the season is that we won all of the home meets. Even though we were not as successful as past seasons, we had a friendly team which enjoyed itself at practices as well as at meets. CREATIVE AWARDS: Most Likely to Run Home - Chris Coy; Best Dressed - Dave Purpura; Most Likely to Pat Himself on the Back: Bill McHugh; Most Likely to Forget His Sneakers on Friday - Ryan Scales; Most Likely to Be the Best High Jumper on the Team -Chris Gallagher. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: Run faster, jump higher and throw farther. MOST MEMORABLE MEET:The league meet was memorable. Most of the team members did their best and enjoyed the afternoon. The strong wind made some events more challenging and the wait longer, but in the end many athletes left proud of their accomplishments.

GIRLS' SPRING TRACK

She's Like the Wind

SUMMARY OF SEASON: We had a great season this year. A large number of newcomers from all grades turned out and we were really excited to see so many freshmen, too! We had a lot of fun and we found some talent we didn't know we had. There were many personal records broken as well as school records. Cristen Butler placed third at the States, which was a great feat! Congrats, Butler. Then the 44 x 100 relay of Andrea Barr, Lisa Bennett, Cassidy Gutner, and Katie Luke also got a best of 52.9 seconds! Congrats to all! Good job, everyone, and good luck next year. Keep it up! MEMORIES: Bus rides, eating Mascia's candy, complaining to Relleva, Ash's inspiring words, PMA (Positive Mental Attitude), "Be a student of life," suntanning on the high jump mats, stretching as a team. CREATIVE AWARDS: Most Relaxed Runner - Andrea Barr; Most Graceful Trackee - Velvet Richardson; Most Smiley Runner - Cristen Butler; Most Likely to Show Up With a Smile - Cass Gutner; Most Likely Not to Listen to Relleva - Courtney Kenney; The Belly Dancing Award - Gina Olveri; Suntan Queen - Abby Onderdonk; Team Ninja - Emily McKissock; Mat Queen - Karyn Ryan; Most Likely to Change the Workout - Amy Henes. BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: To the runners - run like the wind; to the jumpers - live, love, be the air; to the throwers - whip those things; to all - have fun and smile. MOST MEMORABLE MEET: Our meet against Bellingham was by far the most memorable. When we arrived at their brand new track, we were all a little nervous. Knowing many of us had to pull off our personal bests to bring home a win was what got the adrenalin pumping. But sure enough, we pulled it off. There were many outstanding performances. Courtney Kenney got a PR in the 400, Katherine Reilly excelled in the mile, and all the jumpers were definitely an unpleasant surprise for Bellingham.

GOLF

SUMMARY OF SEASON: The 1999 golf season began a bit sluggishly. Although the team was missing a few members, we were still able to capture a few early victories. With little preparation over the winter, the team, led by junior assistant captain Brian Baldassari and captain Jeff Guidici, successfully got into the swing of things. Senior captain David Santopietro reunited with the team after finishing his performance in the spring musical, and as Coach Kodzis put it so well, "We were finally a family again!" The season moved on mixed with successes and upsets. Senior Nate Tisdale proved to be a powerful late coming asset to the team and helped us finish up with an exact 500 record, 8-8-2. We barely qualified for States but that didn't matter because we successfully reached our goal. MEMORIES: Rides to away games, Brian's van and Hulk Hogan, Punch Buggy black - no returns! "Oh my heart!" The Bellingham kid looking for his club in the tree. Ray K's truck! BEQUEST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM: We leave to next year's team the luck we had to get to the States. MOST MEMORABLE GAME: In the final match of the regular season, which we needed to win to make States, there was an alarming turn of events. After the first three groups had finished, the match was tied. The fourth group needed to pull through and the pressure was on, yet as they walked down the ninth, things weren't looking good. On the eighth hole Bellingham called a penalty on the freshman and sophomore pair of John McDonough and Adam Bernazanni. Although the penalty hurt their chances of winning, the two pulled through at least to tie their match, allowing the team to qualify for States, the first time we had done so in eight years.

POWDER PUFF

A bunch of boys and girls, chocolate, strawberry, and maple syrup, flour, mustard, shaving cream, easy-cheese, and a football were the ingredients for the 1998 Powder Puff game. Traditionally, football is played first and the "messy stuff" saved for later. However, this year the "messy" battle began before the "actual" game. The outcome of the game was a score of 14 to 14. Football Captains Dave Kellner and Spencer Brennan coached the WNFL team, which scored two touchdowns, one by Courtney Hazelton and the other by Melissa Ahigian. On the boys' team Russ Doherty and Matt Harrington, with laces tied, scored the other two touchdowns. The teams exerted a tremendous amount of effort and played hard in spite of the stickiness and grime. A great time was had by all.

Hi!

The end of our senior year drew closer and the excitement rose. The first event that signalled the end of the final days of school, the Junior/Senior Prom, drew rapidly. The anticipation for the night of fancy dress, rented tuxes, glamour, dinner, and dancing was felt throughout the school. Students arrived at the Lakeview Pavilion as the sun set and pictures were taken against the coloful backdrop..if people arrived early enough. The night continued and the space on the dance floor was minimal. Laughter filled the air along with singing of our favorite songs. The junior and senior courts were announced with the students again wondering how they were chosen and the DJ wondering about the king. The night drew to a close too quickly as people begged for one last song and final requests were given to the DJ. "I've Had the Time of My Life," the theme, stayed in everyone's mind as we reluctantly left the dance floor after the last song. We realized that Never Before or Never Again will we have the time of our lives like we did that night.

This is so much fun...

After a short break from Class Day, the Class of 1999 continued with another tradition, the Senior Banquet. Unlike previous years, the banquet was not held in the cafeteria. This year our advisors and officers suggested that we try something different - that we move the banquet to a ship, to a Boston Harbor cruise ship! This new approach to an old tradition appealed to all of us and we eagerly anticipated this new adventure.

Once aboard ship, seniors waited patiently for the long- awaited tradtional slide show and superlatives. However, only the superlatives took place. Due to technical difficulties, the slide show was postponed until the all-night graduation party. Caitlin Johnson, Lesley Johnston, and Jennifer Zeiden, as editors of Green Years, presented various seniors with their Senior Superlative awards. Laughter, clapping, and camera flashes reassured everyone the voting was indeed suppported by all.

The food was served and the wind blew through the hair of the members of the senior class. Faculty members, such as Mr. Muldoon, Mr. Grover, Mrs. Petrakos, Mr. Pender, Mrs. Armstrong, and others, helped the seniors celebrate their banquet and their last moments together as a class.

As the boat turned and headed back toward shore, reality hit. There were only three more days lett until graduation, three more days during which the Class of 1999 would be together as a group. With a feeling of nostalgia, we disembarked and looked forward to the next big event - graduation!

A little help from a friend

We're all smiles

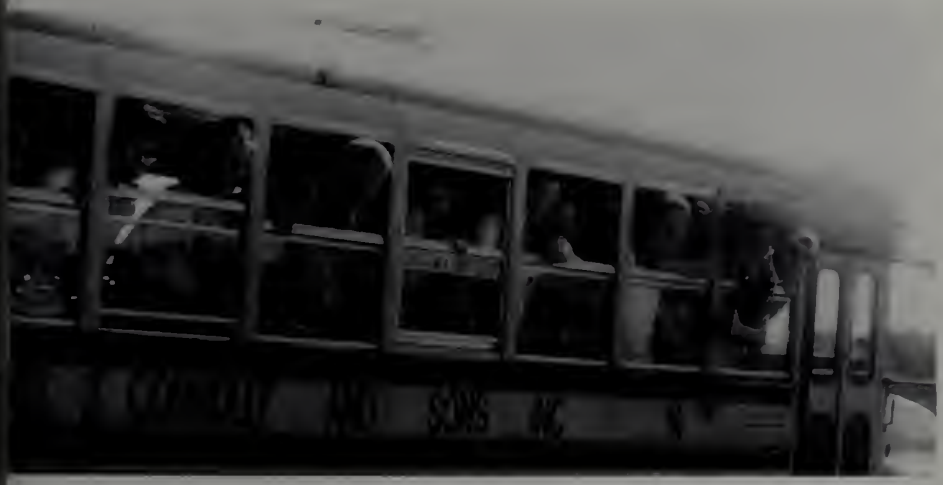

All in a row

Buried alive

On the Tuesday after Memorial Day weekend, the underclassmen of Westwood High School were in class. Where were the seniors? We were relaxing on the beach! The day got off to a slow start. We gathered in the gym early in the morning to practice marching. Most students were anxious to get on the way to the beach because it was a beautiful day. When we were finally finished, we headed off in three busses for Crane's Beach. When we arrived, we claimed sections and laid out towels. After applying sufficient sunblock, we were all set for a day of fun. Some of us took the day to catch some rays and sleep, and others spent the day at the volleyball court or in the water. We were excited when 11:00 A.M. and 2:00 P.M. rolled around because the catered food was ready to be served. We could choose from an array of food: steamers, barbeque ribs, hot dogs, hamburgers, and watermelon. The day was enjoyable for all. We got to be together as a class and the best part of all was not having to be in school. Mr. Muldoon and Mr. Grover had fun as well - they dragged a few unsuspecting students into the cold water. Overall, it was a great day that we all will remember.

Farewell...So long, my friends

Come and get me

Class Day

And now the awards...

Smile for the camera

Thank you...For me?

I love you, man

Thank you, Mr. Flahive

Too heavy to hold by myself

So what's next?

I have a few words to say

A hammer?

On Thursday, June 3, 1999, parents, friends, students, and faculty joined the graduates at the Class Day assembly to recognize the outstanding individual achievements of our class. When we, the seniors, first stepped out into the gym, dressed in our gowns, most of us were a little nervous. Some were excited, a few were burnt to a crisp from the beach trip a couple of days prior to the assembly, and everyone wanted the whole thing to get over with because of how sticky and wet we were from the humidity. However, once we marched in everything was fine as the entire audience stood and extended its congratulations and respect to the Class of 1999. After recognizing achievements in the Junior Class with the Junior Book Awards, President Anthony Chiariello welcomed all to the Class Day exercises. Vice-President Jason Blume then humored us all with the unforgettable class history. Then awards were given to accomplished seniors for their achievements in music ,art, extra-curricular activities, sports, and academics. As a class and as individuals, we had accomplished a lot and we should be very proud of ourselves. As the school community congratulated Mrs. Frances Petrakos for her twenty-nine years of teaching, everyone gave her a standing ovation to thank her for the memories and knowledge she had bestowed upon the students and faculty. When the tri-editors of Green Years 1999, Lesley Johnston, Caitlin Johnson, and Jennifer Zeiden, presented the dedication, Mrs. Petrakos was called out again. All of us were proud to dedicate to her the last Green Years she will ever coordinate. Again, everyone gave her a standing ovation as she stepped up to the podium, where she remarked about how magnificent her years in Westwood had been. As she stepped off the podium, we gave her another standing ovation. So not once, not twice, but three times we stood up to honor this unforgettable great teacher, whom we will always cherish to have known and learned from. Proceeding out of the gym, the Class of 1999 felt a bit of sadness yet a lot of happiness as we anticipated the road ahead. The school said goodbye to us, for that was the last time the entire school community, freshmen, sophomores, juniors, faculty and staff, would be gathered together in honor of the Class of 1999.

Merrily we sing along

A well-deserved recognition

Never BEFORE NEVER Again · Our history...

CLASS OF 1999

Good morning, and welcome to today's main event. I stand before you immersed in an atmosphere of nostalgia and torturous humidity in order to give you the brief history of our beloved senior class. In 1995 we embarked upon our journey into the unknown, into the brave new world that was Westwood High School. In our freshman year we looked up to those upperclassmen who were taller than we, and we looked with awe and angst. The goals given to us at our freshmen orientations seemed simple: try hard, get involved, be all that you can be. Many chose the path of academic achievement, some the path of extracurricular involvement, and most the path of the student athlete. All chose to accept a challenge. As the year progressed, we began to realize not much sleep was to be had during our stay at Westwood High. The four-year-long deprivation began. Towards the conclusion of our freshman experience, many of us had a crash course in video camera operation and group managemnent. The fourth term history video project gave us a taste of the real world. Sophomore year served as an educationally sound segue between the introduction and body paragraph of our high school careers. Morale was high and our sports teams were impressive. The football team defeated Old Colony, wherever that was, in the 1996 Superbowl. While vacationing on Martha's Vineyard, the male varsity soccer team defeated some restless island natives. During our junior year, we discovered a new definition of Hell. By far the most overwhelming of our four years, junior year presented to us obstacles as inordinately large amounts of sleep-depriving busy work, Standard Inaptitude Tests, and the prom. For many, junior year can be summed up in three letters: T,J,B. Mr.Thomas Brown taught us U.S. History, and he taught it thoroughly. During our "free time," we were told to study for our SAT's. Finding that we had a lot of free time, we studied long and hard for our SAT'S. On a more serious note we didn't study for SAT's at all, we simply didn't have the time or the inclination. Regardless, it was by God's grace alone that we survived junior year. And so came the conclusion to our times at Westwood High: Senior Year. The fall presented an interesting irony in the sports arena. While the all-female field hockey team had its best season ever, the all-male football team had its most interesting season ever. Resulting from an equally interesting wager based upon the football and field hockey teams' year-end records, many members of the football team were obliged to wear the field hockey team's kilts. In sports later that year, the all- female swim team did the unheard of and defeated the forces of Bishop Feehan. As the year progressed, seniors began to decide whether and where to attend an institution of higher learning. As these decisions were made, an epidemic of senioritis occurred within the senior class; a few cases were even reported amongst the underclassmen. When the holiday season arrived, some of the seniors decided to go out in the middle of the night and surprise everybody by decorating the court yard with nearly 100 Christmas trees and a living room set. The senior class really wanted to give something back to the communituy. The senior class excelled in other areas. The masterfully conducted effort between our very own Mr. Muldoon and Mr. Guirleo yielded a truly successful annual musical, How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying. Some of the school's best actors, musicians, and stage crew made the musical what it was. Adding to the list of achievements in the Music Department, the band, jazz band and chorus won awards for their exceptional performances at the North American Music Festival. With the onset of May, came the junior-senior prom. The hugely expensive four-hour bash came and went like the wind, and afterwards everybody said nostagically, "I've had the time of my life." Then started the period of reminiscing. We remembered the unprecedented philosophical insight of Daneng, the constant struggle for control between GST and the DCPC, the big questions presented to us by Mr. Chatterton, the interesting experiences we enjoyed with Ms. Walsh, Ms. Kelsch's unrelenting quest for perfection, and so much more. Most of all, we shall remember our friends. We recall more recent events, such as the attempts by various and nefarious senior males to hurl Mr. Muldoon and Mr. Grover into the ocean at Crane Beach. We remember this and we think, "These two fine men put out the painstaking effort to make senior year enjoyable, and we thanked them by throwing them into the freezing water." But, all in good fun. In conclusion, I'd like to thank you all, students, teachers, and family alike, for a fantastic four years here at Westwood High. The Class of 1999 will continue to excel and is destined for greatness. With that I wish you Godspeed.

Graduation

As we embark on our journey to adulthood...

June 6, 1999: A day that the senior class knew was imminent, but never believed would actually come. It was our graduation, the day we would leave as wolverines to embark on our journey to adulthood. The ceremony was beautiful, beginning with class president Tony Chiariello's speech, filled with the wisdom of Ferris Bueller, and reminding us "to take time to enjoy life." Valedictorian Ben Wyler followed Tony's lighthearted, yet poignant speech, by urging his fellow classmates to "maintain the integrity of our values" and "to pave the way to a more humane and just world." Many awards and scholarships were distributed to an amazing number of students. The diversity of the recipients demonstrated the many talents of the Class of 1999. The ceremony appeared to be running smoothly; there were serious moments as well as light ones. The real fun, however, began as the students went up to receive their diplomas. Sam Robbins caused quite a stir when he sprang into a break dancing pose. Ben Wyler provoked a few laughs when he received his diploma dressed in scuba gear. It was Dan Springer, however, that caused the most commotion when he unzipped his robe to show the crowd his bright green Speedo bathing suit. The class, however, showed its true dignity and spirit by applauding the conclusion of the ceremony simply by showing how happy they were and then marching out with pride - as graduates of Westwood High School, the CLASS OF 1999.

Our last group picture as seniors

Lets's get the show on the road

It's been a pleasure

We both thank you

Ready and able to face the world

Oh, say can I sing...

We'll be outta here in no time

Two more hours and we're done for good

For me?

Gee, thanks

Congratulations!

Wow!

Follow the leader

I love you all

Left, Right, Left

The three musketeers

You're a good man

Just give me the money

This is for me? Thanks!

And now the finale

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

(Excerpted)

Dr. Ash, Mr. Flahive, school committee representatives, faculty, staff, family and friends, and all my fellow classmates, welcome to the commencement ceremonies of the Class of 1999. The other night I was at the National Honor Society Induction, and I heard a number of impressive speeches given by four of the inductees. I will admit, however, that I did not understand half of what they were saying. One student began by quoting the Greek philosopher Plato. I'm not real familiar with philosophy, nor with what he was talking about, but I would like to begin with a quote. My quote comes from a philosopher in his own right, Mr. Ferris Bueler. He said, "Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around every once in a while, you might miss it." In these last few weeks, I've found that my friend Ferris is correct. It seems like only yesterday that I was walking into the Downey School. Everything was small and cozy. One desk, one classroom, one teacher. Spelling and phonics were the toughest classes and everyone loved gym. We must remember, of course, we weren't doing the twelve minute run; we were playing dodge ball. If you got tired, you could take a nap. Man, I loved that; granted some of us are still known to take a snooze mid class. We moved up the ranks - 2nd grade, 3rd grade, 4th, and finally 5th grade, where we reached the apex of our elementary school careers. We then moved up to the middle school, the Class of '99 was together for the first time. We were the new kids on the block...we were the Class of '99. And we moved to the high school as such. We moved into the high school as one of the most talented classes in years, academically, athletically, and artistically. We lived up to our potential as we are sending a number of students to Ivy League schools as well as other fine institutions. We have a number of students who will remain on the playing fields at their schools, carrying on the fine Westwood tradition. And a number of students have become fantastic artists. For such a small class in such a small school we have succeeded far beyond anyone's expectations...We became scholars, actors, jocks, artists, and musicians, among other things. When we started our senior year, we were faced with perhaps the biggest decision so far in our lives, what will we do after high school? After all our deadlines were met, some a little late, we waited. The fear was almost palpable as those who applied for early decision found out they got into school, while others waited. Eventually all was done and all work ceased, much to the chagrin of the teachers...Before I conclude, I would especially like to thank Mr. Grover and Mr. Muldoon. As our senior class advisors, they have done a great deal of work and are greatly under-appreciated. So everyone give them a hand. Without them nothing would have been done this year. So in the blink of an eye here we are, waiting to embark on the next phase of our lives taking all twelve years of memories with us. So I guess, life does move pretty fast. Don't miss it.

Anthony Chiariello
President

VALEDICTORIAN'S MESSAGE

(Excerpted)

Fellow classmates, family and friends:

Our years at Westwood High have been memorable. Over the past four years we have experimented, begun to discover ourselves, and watched each other mature physically and mentally. We have forged unbreakable friendships, tested and pushed our limits and had a whole lot of fun. We have also faced hardships—both individually and as a class—difficulties that have built character and brought us together. Now we face not only the culmination of four incredible years, but the culmination of our childhoods. High school graduation constitutes a major turning point in our lives. It is both a celebration and a moment for reflection, a finale and a commencement. As we recognize the accomplishments of the Class of '99 over the past four years, and as we revel in the excitement of the moment, it is important that we also look ahead to the future. As we leave home, as we enter the world as independent adults, it is important that we take a moment to think about what we are doing and where we are headed. We must define our values and goals, and be confident in our beliefs and our abilities. In the coming years, the world will face the same challenge we face. With the advent of the new milllenium, the world will be forced to analyze its direction, redefine its values, and choose its course into the twenty-first century. The millenium is no different than any other year—it will not be a doomsday or the harbinger of a golden age—but it will present us with a much needed opportunity to evaluate where we stand and where we are headed...I have a great deal of faith in the abilities of our class...The members of the Class of 1999 not only encompass vast talents but also defy stereotypes. While we are certainly not ethnically or stylistically diverse, but the range of abilities—whether in arts, academics, athletes, or leadership—and of personalities—attitudes and approaches toward life—is truly remarkable. But not only is our class multi-talented, it is unified. Despite Westwood's unfortuante penchant for cliques, the members of the Class of '99 have proven, for the most part, to be accepting, sympathetic, and supportive. Such a combination of diverse skills and open-minded, cooperative attitudes will be essential qualities in the years to come. As we develop and expand our goals, I encourage everyone to cherish these two values: a cooperative attitude and a sincere motivation to contribute to humanity. In addition, it is important that we accept a collective responsibility for the future. Too often, people are quick to cast blame and steal credit. Instead, we should all take pride in each other's victories and take responsibility for each other's failures. Individually, we all must strive to do our best, and collectively we must face the consequences of our actions. Through sympathy and cooperation, we can steer our society in a positive direction. Next year, we will each go our separate ways, choosing our own paths and testing our values. Yet, as a class, as a generation, we will move together into the future. Many paths lie open before us, and all we can do is hope that we will make positive choices about which path to follow. Before I conclude, I would like to share a poem from J.R.R. Tolkein's The Lord of the Rings:

The road goes ever on and on
Out from the door where it began
Now far ahead the road has gone
And we must follow if we can
Pursuing it with eager feet
Until it joins some larger way
Where other paths and errands meet
And whither then, I cannot say.

I wish all of you the best of luck as you pursue your individual dreams on the road of life...I hope our paths will meet down the road. Thank you.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, David Abramson, leave to Lexi, Katie Mac, Robyn magazines and the library. And to Abby and Rachel, I leave a barrel of laughs.
I, George Awde, leave to Mooney, Butler, and Court each other. Never change. Love you always, George.
I, Michael Barry, leave to Andrew Keefe my spot in the English Wing, and to Christine Mooney, no shane, no gain.
I, Evan Brent, leave to my younger brother, Marc, my insanity and my role in the bathroom parties with Jack.
I, Benson, leave to Salter, LL, the Gimp Ball, the Plaque.
I, J. Blume, leave to my sister, Missy Blume, my place at the helm, and to everyone a good hearty laugh.
I, Spencer Brennan, leave to my brother the responsibility of trying to figure out what Scully is trying to say.
I, Amanda Burke, leave to my brother, Anthony, a lot of luck in his school years.
I, Valerie Cenat, leave to the Metco students this to remember: "It is not your environment, it is not your history, it is not your education or ability; it is the quality of your mind that predicts your future."
I, Anthony Chiariello, leave to the football team my blue sweat pants and to my sister Teresa, I leave Mom's plentiful and humorous tardy notes.
I, Sarah Collins, leave to Amy Baker the ability to psychoanalyze; to the Italy crew: Armando, Luigi, the coat, and never-ending laughter.
I, Colman Connelly, leave to my brother,Ian, my outrageous body hair and my repugnant odor.
I, Katie Connelly, leave to Molly Howard the songs.
I, Elizabeth Conroy, leave to Courtney Kenney all the bathroom talks to get her through another year of high school, and to Mooney and Butler, the right to be "Brutal."
I, Elizabeth Coppa, leave to Cristen Butler and Courtney Kenney, the patience throughout another year. Live your life as an exclamation, not an explanation. Smile and the whole world will smile.
I, Catherine Coy, leave to Andy Lucas a bunch of bananas and a Jenga game; to Chris Coy a baseball with Rachel's signature on it.
I, Lori Cullinane, leave to Cheryl, my quotebook to keep her sane; to Bridgette, the "how to" book; to Jen M., a sweatshirt for when it's "cold"; and to Liz M, AOL conversations.
I, Nikki Delaney, leave to B4 1/2 all the memories and rides everywhere; Courtney Kenney, pulp forever and talks; Stephanie Praino, (DS); Echo, talks and in soccer to beat Hanover.

I, Beth Patterson, leave to Evan Yarian "I hate good-byes," and to see a color other than red; to Nick a week full of closing with Karen.

I, Jenni Pilalas, leave to my brudda Stephen all my love and detentions; to Gregory Shapland I leave MY bench; and to Chris Jacob I leave an open mind and a night of Swingdancing.

I, Chuckie Pizzano, leave to the Westwood High parking lot, my Camino (it adds class to the place).

I, Jason Poreda, leave to my sister Heather (who will be a freshman next year) my locker, number 752.

I, Meghan Radden, leave to the current and future students independence and the ability to get through the hardships of life with knowledge, and a positive outlook.

I, Jenny Reagan, leave to Courtney Kenney and Christine Mooney a can of Easy-cheeese for yummy crackers.

I, Sam Robbins, leave to worthy subjects the art of Ninjutsu. Live by honor.

I, Karyn Ryan, leave to Jon D. all my smiles and hugs; to Lavinia W. I leave all the studying I didn't do; to Cristen Butler a stress-free senior year; to Sean L. a rockin' senior year; to Kate, SusieQ, and Lucas, have fun; and to Muldoon all my great comebacks.

I, Andrea Santilli, leave to Joe and Caroline the will power to work hard, dream, and succeed in anything and everything you do.

I, John Santoro, leave to Anna Runci my matching outfits; to Abigail F., Lindsay W., and Leslie H. the joy of acting; and to Tony R. Italian essence.

I, David Santopietro, keave to Jon Dick and Andy Lucas, all the cool qualities that come with being an olive oil, jive talkin', grooving Italian Stallion. And to Susie and Kate (the girls) a lifetime ticket to magically get them home when they don't have a ride!

I, Bill Schroeder, leave to Mr. Brown, the Confederacy; to Mr. Giurleo, a new auditorium; to Benson a happy day; to Don a reed case; to the GST their own country.

I, Bill Sheehan, leave to Brian Greenberg a map to Scituate to go back and get his left side.

I, Allison Small, leave to the Twinkies the old water bottle; to my sister the rejection sticker; and to Theresa the nickname Pokey.

I, Dan Spellman, leave to Joey Fierimonte a tradition of skill and talent that has been passed by seniors for generations.

I, Tim Spillane, leave to any brave soul endless coffee and late-nite experiences at the Walpole Dunkin' Donuts.

I, Daniel D. Springer, leave to Sebastian Napolitano my lunch; to Andy and Dick the remains of my elephant; to Greg my whiffle-ball bat; and to Colleen Glennon my leather underwear.

I, Andre Steward, leave to WHS a megaphone.

I, Rachel Stoddard, leave to Chris Coy a signed baseball; to Sean Lancey a blue permanent marker; and to Andy Lucas the constellations.

I, Rachel Suazo, leave to Sammy LaCombe the responsibility of instigating all arguments on the bus.

I, Nate Tisdale, leave to the Westwood High janitors 200 Christmas trees.

I, Joanne Wan, leave to Kenny 3 more years of constant nagging parents at home; and to Lucas a stick of gum for next year's prom.

I, Jennifer Warnick, leave to whomever my mother, Sandra L. Warnick, to look after, care for, be friends with, and discipline as necessary. Thank you.

I, Kate Weatherbee, leave to AJ, MC, GL, SM, LR, LF, BZWA and all the bathroom rights, plus all the freshmen beatings desired. I love you, guys. Be good!

I, Nate Weinstein, leave to Tom Reece the Monster Tools to be used wisely and with discretion.

I, Ben Wyler, leave to Jonny D., all my Simpsons' impressions.

I, Jennifer Zeiden, leave to Jon, Andy, Kate, Susie, and Lavinia the abilty to succeed and a wonderful senior year; to my sister Alexis, MY car and everything you dream of.

I, Jill Ziedman, leave to Emily Ziedman my awesome locker, number 603 in the English wing. "Take care of it, Em!

Take time to work.
It is the price of success.
Take time to meditate.
It is the souce of power.
Take time to play.
It is the secret of perpetual youth.
Take time to read.
It is the way to knowledge.
Take time to be friendly.
It is the road to happiness.
Take time to laugh.
It is time music of the soul.
And take time to love and be loved.
